The mild weather of last winter, with its frequent freezing and thawing, kept our streets soft, and the spring found them in many places badly cut up, and the larger part of the months of March and April were devoted to cleaning and patching them.

The whole number of loads of stone and gravel used on the streets the past year, is 9380, over 2000 more than last year.

Arlington Avenue.

The avenue from Mill street to the residence of Mr. J. F. Hobbs, a distance of about 4500 feet, has been picked, coated with cracked stone and blue gravel, to a depth of nine inches in the centre, and thoroughly rolled, making a very fine piece of road.

In rolling and picking we used a steam roller hired from the city of Cambridge, which, in our judgment, not only lessened the expense, but gave us a much better road.

Other portions of the avenue should be treated in like manner, particularly those opposite the estates of Samuel Butterfield and F. F. Squire, also between Water and Mill streets, near lane leading to stone crusher, and from top of hill near Lowell street to Vine street. With this done we shall have an avenue equal to any in the county, and one that will need but very little repairing for some time.

Academy Street.

The drainage of this street is very bad, and should receive the attention of the Selectmen as soon as possible. The road bed itself is good, but no provision whatever is made for taking care of the surface water, and in times of heavy showers or protracted rain storms, that portion near the estate of Mr. M. N. Rice is flooded with water, rendering it almost impassable for citizens living near by and beyond. If the street should be raised at this point and lowered at the junction of Maple street, making a true grade to Arlington avenue, or a drain pipe with proper catch basins laid to a point near Mr. Nickerson's estate, the trouble would be remedied, and, in justice to the abutters, should be done as soon as possible. Other portions of this street should receive immediate attention, particularly that adjoining the estate of Mr. William T. Foster; the retaining wall at this place needs rebuilding and some provision made for taking care of water which collects here in great quantities. The sidewalks are rough and very uneven and should be repaired.

Appleton Street.

From Vine street to Park avenue, and from top of hill to Lexington line, has been gravelled.

The grade of this street in many places is very steep, which makes it quite expensive to keep in repair. The gutters should be paved or concreted.

Brattle Street.

This street has been covered with blue gravel its entire length, the gutters from R. R. crossing to Dudley street have been paved, and the street is now in good repair.

Broadway

Has been repaired in many places with a light coat of gravel and, with the exception of a portion near Alewife brook, which should be attended to next season, the street is in good order.

Bartlett Avenue.

This avenue having been put in good repair last year, but little was needed to be done this. Concrete sidewalks and granite edgestones have been laid by E. Nelson Blake, Dr. Libby and L. P. Bartlett.

Only a portion of this street has been accepted by the town.

Dudley Street

Has been crowned by picking the outside edges and scraping to the centre, then covered with blue gravel its entire length making a much needed improvement to this street.

Mill Street.

That portion of this street left unfinished last year has been completed this, and the street is now in good condition.

Mystic Street.

Through the liberality of Mr. Samuel A. Fowle, in giving the town land, this street has been widened to a uniform width of 45 feet, and a retaining wall 200 feet in length built on the east side; the street has been coated with cracked stone and blue gravel from Chestnut to Summer streets, and otherwise put in good condition.

Portions of this street near the estates of Samuel A. Fowle, H. W. Spurr and S. R. Smith should be repaired early in the spring.

Lake Street,

Between Hill's lane and the Ice track, has been put in good condition by lowering about 15 inches, thus giving a sufficient grade to carry off the surface water that collected in large quantities; as the material for doing this work had to be teamed a long distance, it made the job quite expensive.

The street from the R. R. crossing to the lane should be covered with stone and gravel soon.

Medford Street.

But little has been done to this street this year. Next year it should be thoroughly repaired with stone and gravel.

Park Avenue

Has been kept in good condition by opening the gutters and such other repairs as were needed from time to time.

Pleasant Street.

A few years ago this street was surveyed, a plan made and grade established. A large proportion of it was built in accordance with the plans; about 1500 feet near the residence of C. O. Gage, Esq., remains unfinished and should be completed as soon as possible.

Summer Street,

From Mill street to the estate of Mr. Cyrus Cutter, and from Mystic street to the estate of Mrs. Sarah Winn (that portion between Mrs. Winn's and Mill street was repaired last season), has been put in good condition by crowning with blue gravel, rebuilding the retaining wall near Fowle's mill and clearing gutters.

Jason Street.

A concrete gutter has been laid on the east side of this street, and edgestone has been set by the town under the usual condition.

Sidewalks.

The concrete sidewalks of the town have received a thorough repairing this year, and not before needed, they having become very rough and uneven and in some places dangerous; nearly all have been recoated and are now in good condition to last a number of years without any expense. About 1242 feet of edgestone have been set by the town, the abutters furnishing the stone. The sidewalks of some of the side streets have been repaired with stone dust from the crusher, making a very nice walk.

Town House.

With the exception of laying a new floor in the hall, and repairs to the police office and Treasurer's office, but little, except the general repairs, has been done to the building this year. We would recommend that the roof be newly slated the coming year. With the usual appropriation and the unexpended balance of this year it can be done. The building will then be in condition to last for a long time without any repairs.

Watering Streets.

In watering streets, the custom of last year was followed. Mr. W. A. Peirce, being the lowest bidder, was awarded the contract for watering a portion; the town teams attending to the remainder.

Almshouse.

In February last the almshouse was partially destroyed by fire, caused, no doubt, by a stove in the room of one of the inmates.

The insurance, placed with George Y. Wellington, Esq., being promptly adjusted the building was at once repaired and is now in as good condition as before.

The furnace, an old affair, has been replaced by a Foster Hot Water Heating Apparatus, and is a great improvement over the old method, keeping the house thoroughly warm throughout, without any increased expenditure for fuel and no danger from fire.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Proctor are in charge of the premises and show good judgment in the care of the inmates and buildings.

Perambulation.

In compliance with the laws of the State we have perambulated the town lines, in conjunction with the authorities of the adjoining towns, and we found the bounds with one exception, which was remedied, in good condition and well secured.

Teams and Tools

Are in their usual condition and well cared for. We have lost two horses the past year, one having died, the other becoming unfit for service, has been disposed of. A pair is kept in each of the Hose Houses (Wm. Penn and Highland) for fire duty and are worked on the highways. Another pair ought to be purchased this spring.

Cemeteries.

The cemeteries are under the charge of Mr. J. H. Hartwell and are in good condition.

Aside from laying some new concrete gutters, but little has been done this year.

We would renew the old recommendation that the committee be allowed to draw on the money received from the sale of lots, when needed for repairs and improvements.

Street Lights.

Our streets are lighted by the Somerville Electric Light Co., under a contract for three years.

In conferring with their agent, we found that a saving of $1053 could be made by so doing, and feeling reasonably sure that Electric Lighting had come to stay, we deemed it our duty to take advantage of the contract. A rebate for outs is allowed us.

Total number of lights,	242½
Incandescent,	213
Arc,	29½

The Arc light at the foot of Whittemore street near R.R. crossing is the property of the Boat Club and is no expense to the town.

Drainage.

The time has come when something should be done to take care of the surface water in our streets.

As we shall not get any relief from the system shortly to be forced upon us, it will be necessary for the town to adopt some method of their own.

Arlington avenue, near the estate of Mr. F. F. Squire, should receive immediate attention in this matter, as this is one of the worst places in town.

Since the street railroad was removed to the centre of the avenue and the grade changed, a much larger quantity of water collects here than formerly. The pipe laid through Barnes lane for the purpose of carrying off the water is not large enough, and should be taken up and one much larger put down. This we think would remedy the difficulty at this point.

Warren street and Lewis avenue are in much the same condition, and after looking over the premises, the only plan that suggests itself is to lay a drain pipe through the cemetery, or one through Parallel street to Mystic River. Although this might be somewhat expensive, it seems due to the people of that part of the town that something should be done. Academy street has already been referred to.

Stone Crusher.

The amount of money spent in repairs and new machinery last year has been more than returned in the increased facilities for crushing stone and ease in loading teams. With some slight repairs the crusher will be in good order.

Coal.

The town was supplied with coal by Mr. Warren A. Peirce, he being the lowest bidder.

The prices were $5.00 per ton for furnace coal; $4.10 per ton for Cumberland coal; $5.65 per ton for H. B. Lehigh coal.

Licenses.

One sixth class license has been issued in accordance with Chapter 431 of the Acts of Legislature for 1887.

Police and Fire Departments.

Details of these departments will be found in the Reports of the Chiefs and Town Treasurer.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE D. TUFTS,
GEORGE D. MOORE,
WINFIELD S. DURGIN,
Selectmen of Arlington.

ARLINGTON, Dec. 31, 1890.

REPORT OF WATER COMMISSIONERS.

In compliance with the provisions of the law we herewith submit our report for the year 1890.

In submitting the same we would say in the outset, that matters pertaining to the workings of the water works, for the past year, have been about the same, and progressed quite favorably; nothing of note having occurred, requiring special mention.

Your commissioners, as in years past, have been diligent in the effort to recognize the demands for water, by furnishing a supply to all applicants of the best they had, in so far as it was possible so to do.

The receipts from water rates, as can be seen by referring to the report of the Treasurer, have been $13,475.50, showing a gain over the receipts of last year of $604.61, a continued evidence of increased advances from year to year in the amount of receipts. The Treasurer's report also shows an unexpended balance for the year of $404.86. Most of this gain is brought about by the increase in the number of services required for new dwellings, the number added this year being forty.

The running expenses for the year exceeded those of last by the sum of $66.55 (not a large sum), increasing salary and labor bringing it about. The usual amount of repairs during the year has received attention, the larger number being upon breaks in the old main pipes (number of these being nineteen), some of them of quite a serious nature, and expense to repair being considerable. It is cases of this sort that occasion the shutting off the water from takers, of which some complaints have been made. Our excuse is, we cannot possibly do otherwise, but wish to say, that particular effort is made in all cases to have it the shortest possible time.

The reservoir has received the usual attention during the year. A new bridge has been built at a cost of $29.75, running from the driveway on the east side to the well-house, a needed repair, the old one being unsafe and too poor for use. The fence on Lowell street has received two coats of paint at a cost of $70.17. This was needed as a preservation. The brook above the reservoir has been thoroughly cleaned, and the bed lowered in some places, making the condition of the brook much improved.

Demands for the laying of new iron pipe have continued during much of the year. The following amounts have been laid in new streets and others:

Cleveland Street.

96 feet 4-inch pipe at a cost of	$27 36
1 gate,	9 25
Labor and materials,	16 33
	$52 94

Wyman Street.

252 feet 4-inch pipe,	$71 82
Labor and materials,	47 33
	$119 15

The laying of this 252 feet of pipe completed the whole length of street from the avenue to Broadway; the erection of some seven houses upon this street provides quite a good income from water rates.

Teel Street Place.

90 feet 1¼ inch cement-lined pipe,	$10 80
Labor,	8 63
	$19 43

Gray Street.

120 feet 4-inch pipe,	$34 20
1 gate,	9 25
Labor and materials,	56 02
	$99 47

Here cement-lined pipe was taken up, which can be utilized in the course of repairs in the future. This Gray street expense was necessitated by a change being made in the grade of the street, leaving the pipe as originally laid, so near the top of the ground as to endanger its safety from frost, so had to be lowered. We doubt not that the changes that seem likely to take place in the grade of streets will necessitate other and like expense in the near future.

Cross and Henderson Streets.

576 feet 4-inch pipe,	$164 16
1 hydrant,	26 57
2 gates,	18 50
Labor and materials,	125 64
	$334 87

This amount of pipe with what was laid last year and in previous years in Teel and Henderson streets completes the entire length of said streets; also by laying through the length of Cross street at lower or east end, it completes a continuous run of water, by circuit, from the avenue; this it will be seen does away with "dead ends" as they are called, in this case a sure benefit, as we construe it, to the condition of the water.

Hydrants have been provided in sufficient numbers, to serve as a substantial protection against fire, which puts this end of the town in the matter of water supply and distribution of the same in a very good shape, well up to any reasonable desired requirements.

Mystic Street.

Upon this street quite an enterprise has sprung into existence during the present year by the cutting up of the "Davis Estate" into house lots, necessitating the establishment of these streets, all running out of Mystic street, upon each of which a house has been built.

That water might be introduced this year it was arranged, in order to help along the enterprise, which seemed for mutual advantage, that pipes be laid in the middle street called "Draper street;" this, by management, could serve as a supply to the others for the present. Therefore 240 feet 4-inch iron pipe was laid, one hydrant and one gate set at a total expense of $175.21. These last are fixtures in the direction of preparing guards against fire.

New Services.

Forty new services have been put in during the year, at an expense of $407.20, an average of $10.18 each, showing a few cents more in the cost than last year. It is very probable that they will continue to cost about the price shown these last two years. (Cost last year $10.10 each.)

The commissioners as heretofore are pleased to announce that a lesser amount will be required to meet the deficiency of income, for the payment of interest on water scrip, for the year 1891. Sum estimated as being required for the above purpose $3500, showing the sum of $500 less than last year.

From present indications we cannot but see the propriety in again asking that provision be made for a supply of new iron pipe for use in the coming year.

We therefore recommend that an appropriation be granted for such extending of main pipes, for hydrants, etc., as in the judgment of the board it shall seem for the best interest of the town so to do. Mr. Thomas Roden has continued to have charge of the work during the past year. Amount of stock and materials on hand Dec. 31, 1890, $757.23.

The Water Problem.

The commissioners feel, that, in view of the unsatisfactory condition of the water for a portion of the past few years (and especially this year), it is well to make mention of it to the town, carrying with it the idea, that they are fully cognizant of the fact, and would gladly remedy the defect, were any way possible under their control. It seems that at some day not far distant, steps will have to be taken by the town to both improve its water and at the same time increase the supply; so that demands now being made upon the system can be met. No doubt this is the feeling of all citizens of the town, as it certainly must be, if its interests are taken into account.

No matter in what light the subject is approached, the fact is evident, that it is a matter of no small magnitude, to take in hand what we have to do with, carry it forward to a condition both as to quality and quantity of water, so as to be approved by all citizens of the town, is quite an undertaking to contemplate. Large outlays of money will be required to perfect such a system; but we feel that the demand is pressing to such an extent, that the town cannot longer afford to delay the initiative to some move tending to the improvement of its water supply.

Many theories have been advanced and discussed from time to time in the hope that some feasible plan could be presented, with a reasonable assurance of success.

After careful deliberation and study on the subject, your commissioners can see but one course to be pursued, that will be likely to solve the problem. This is to increase the depth of the reservoir to one much greater than that at present; in which case the capacity is of course increased and, as we think, the quality of the water much improved.

In order to institute the above plan, means must be provided by which a supply of water can be kept up to the town, while the work is going on.

This we think can be done, by introducing a twelve-inch pipe into the brook just above the reservoir, to run along the north bank of the reservoir, direct to the present filter gallery, which would probably require being enlarged, in order to be of sufficient capacity.

Under this plan the water would be conveyed to the distribution pipes, without entering the reservoir at all. This might be found to be a serviceable adjunct to the works in the future.

In connection with this subject might be mentioned the fact, that $217,000 six per cent. bonds become due January, 1892.

This can no doubt be refunded at a much less rate of interest than we are at present paying, thereby putting the indebtedness of the works on a better footing than at present, in so far as its interest account is concerned.

For detailed statement we refer you to Treasurer's report.

The force consists of a chief and four patrolmen. The same as last year, the patrolmen report for duty at 7 P. M. Their routes are as follows: Officer Barry has the centre of the town with Pleasant street to the Belmont line, Academy street, Mystic street to Winchester line, and from Bartlett avenue to Webster street.

Officer Austin has the territory from Bartlett avenue, to Forest street, including Arlington avenue, Summer above Mill, and all connecting streets; he also covers Jason and Academy streets when he reports at the Station at 11 P. M. Officer Irwin takes all above Forest street, and Officer Hooley all below Webster street.

Exact bounds or time cannot be made for any of them but they are ordered to go where their services are most needed. They have so much territory to cover that it must not seem strange that they cannot always be just where they are most wanted. They have the street lights to look after as far as reporting the "outs."

In 1890, as in previous years, an earnest effort has been made to suppress the illegal sale of intoxicating liquor.

The keeper of the "kitchen" bar is the most difficult to convict. Ofttimes a neighbor will say such a person is selling rum, still while they would like to see them prosecuted, they will give no evidence to help convict, and many people have the mistaken idea that all an officer has to do to convict a person of violating the liquor law, is to find liquor on the premises; but such is not the case, for in connection with the finding of such liquors, a sale must be proven, or evidence given that it is a place of common resort. It is safe to say it was never more diffieult than at the present time for a person to procure liquor in Arlington.

Our town has been comparatively free from crimes of a serious nature.

In three cases of breaking and entering, property of very little value was taken and the most of that was recovered. For these crimes the thief was given a sentence of three years in the State's Prison.

The Sunday travel to Arlington the past summer was greater than ever before, making it necessary to employ four special officers almost every Sunday. They were placed where it was thought they would do the best service in preserving the peace and protecting property, but it was found that four men scattered as they were obliged to be, could not give the satisfaction desired. I recommend that at least two more specials be put on duty on Sundays when needed.

The regular officers are on duty Sundays, one in the morning and three in the afternoon; this service they give in addition to their night duty, and for it they get no extra pay. I recommend that they be given half a day's pay for the Sunday afternoon work.

In closing my report I desire to thank the honorable Board of Selectmen, also Town Clerk, B. Delmont Locke, and Wm. H. H. Tuttle, Esq., for counsel and friendly advice.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

EUGENE MEAD,

Chief of Police.

Russell Terrace; 38, Academy St., near Maple St.; 41, Arlington Av., near Schouler Ct.; 46, Brattle, near Dudley St.; 61, cor. Florence and Hillside Avs.

We consider our Fire Alarm second to none in the State with the exception of those in the cities. After nearly two years of trial it has proved itself to be of valuable assistance, at the same time, however, requiring considerable careful attention.

BUILDINGS AND APPARATUS.

The new house for the Chemical at Arlington Heights was completed and a Company stationed there July first. A contract was made with Mr. Dennis Reardon to furnish a horse to draw the same at the rate of fifty cents per day.

I would respectfully suggest that the town furnish a pair of horses for the Chemical, under the same conditions as those furnished for similar purposes in other parts of the town, and that a pole be attached to the Chemical for this purpose.

The Broadway house needs repairing and painting. The Hook and Ladder Truck needs some repairing, the most important of which, perhaps, is a pair of wheels.

I would further suggest that a four way post hydrant be placed near the Town House instead of the flush hydrant now in use.

APPROPRIATION.

I would recommend an appropriation of $3500 to meet the expenses of the coming year.

In closing I desire to express my sincere thanks to your honorable Board, and to my Assistants and the members of the Department, for the cheerful manner in which they have aided me in the discharge of duties.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES GOTT,
Chief Engineer.

REPORT

OF THE

TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

To the Town of Arlington :

In submitting their report for the year 1890, the Trustees of the Public Library have to state that the library has continued to prosper under the efficient charge of Miss Newton. In March, Miss Marion B. Fessenden, who for some years had held the position of assistant librarian, resigned. Miss Fessenden's uniform courtesy and readiness to oblige, as well as her diligent performance of duty, made her departure a subject of general regret. Her place is now filled by Miss Mary L. Dupee.

As is almost necessarily the case in so well established a library as ours, few important or striking changes of system occur in any year. Such alterations and improvements as are made are ordinarily in small details of management, each of no great moment in itself, but all tending to increase the usefulness of the library. The librarian's statement shows that both the number and circulation of the books are increasing and no signs appear that the public interest in the library is likely to diminish.

In the selection of books a high degree of care is used. Books are rarely ordered unless their character is vouched for by responsible persons, by critics of repute or by their admission into other libraries of high standing. When received they are subjected to a further scrutiny and not placed on the shelves unless they are apparently desirable. Nevertheless, complaint is occasionally, although rarely made that valueless or objectionable books are in the library. In such cases the book criticised is carefully examined, and if the complaint appears to be well founded, its use is restricted or it is removed altogether. It is not to be forgotten however that in a public library designed to serve readers of every variety of taste no hard and fast rule in the selection of books can or ought to be followed. While obviously harmful and worthless books should be excluded, many books of no great literary value which nevertheless give wholesome and attractive reading, ought to be admitted. Even the poorest books in a public library often do good by taking the place of outside reading that is a great deal worse. The Trustees welcome all the assistance that the public can give them both in criticism of books that are in the library and in recommendation of books that should be added. As has been said in former reports a blank form of application is provided, and the person recommending a book is given the first opportunity to read it.

One very useful means of assistance to readers is the card catalogue, which has lately been moved into the reading-room where it may be freely consulted by any person. This consists of a case of thirty drawers containing cards upon which are written the titles and numbers of books. The cards are placed in the drawers in strict alphabetical order according to their headings, which are of author, title or subject. The catalogue is designed to be an index to the contents of the library fuller than any printed catalogue could be made to be without great labor and expense. It assists the reader in various ways. If he wishes to know what books by a certain author the library has, the cards under the name of that author will inform him, not only as to complete works but in many cases as to parts of books. If he knows the title of a book and wishes to see if the library has it, he may find out at once by looking for that title. If he wishes information on a certain subject, the cards catalogued under that subject contain the names of such books or parts of books as treat of it. The use of this catalogue is as readily learned as the use of the ordinary printed catalogues, while it serves needs that they cannot. Before it was placed in the reading-room, the librarian and her assistants found it an indispensable aid and now that it is more accessible than heretofore, its usefulness is continually increasing.

The weekly delivery of books at Arlington Heights has been continued under charge of Miss Lucy C. Bailey. Upon her removal from town in December, Mr. H. S. Russell took her place. The success that has attended this system favors its introduction at the eastern end of the town if the people of that neighborhood so desire. The Trustees believe that under suitable management such weekly delivery of books would be found as convenient there as at the Heights.

The experiment was first tried last year of publishing in the Town Report a list of books added during the year. A list so published is more accessible and likely to be preserved than if printed separately. The same plan is followed this year and will probably be continued.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

To the Town of Arlington:

The School Committee submit their annual report.

High School Building.

The Committee have first to call the attention of the town to the condition of the High School building.

The inadequacy of the present school-house to the reasonable accommodation of the school has often been mentioned in the annual reports of the School Committee. The report for 1871 reads "The Committee cannot omit the usual recommendation of a new house for the High School. Sooner or later the expense of such a building must be incurred. The present house cannot be transformed. It has too many faults of construction to admit of its being altered, except at great expense, to secure the comfort and complete accommodation of the school. The building compares very unfavorably with the High School houses in any of the neighboring towns, and is by no means such an edifice in respect to use or ornament as this town should content itself with." In 1875 the Committee say "That the building is unfit as to comfort and convenience, leaving out every consideration of attractiveness, has long been apparent." Similar remarks might be quoted from later reports, but the above extracts are enough to show their general character. The objectionable features of the building have naturally increased with time. Its present condition is as follows:

The main school room is on the second floor and is $40\frac{1}{3}$ feet long, $27\frac{1}{3}$ feet wide and $13\frac{3}{4}$ feet high. On this floor is also the chemical and physical laboratory, a room 18½ by 12½ feet. On the ground floor are two recitation rooms, of which the southern is 28½ by 19 feet and the northern 28½ by 21 feet. Connected with the northern room is a smaller room used occasionally but not usually for recitations. Each recitation room is connected with the main school-room by a narrow and winding staircase at the back of the building. There are two dressing-rooms in the front part of the school-house on each floor, all very small, the upper ones being reached by stairways opening directly from the outside of the building.

The school-house is heated by a steam boiler in the cellar. The main room and the two recitation rooms are warmed by indirect radiation—the air passing over coils of heated pipes and thence through registers into the rooms. These rooms and the chemical laboratory are further warmed directly by steam radiators in the rooms. There is also a steam radiator at the foot of each of the back stair-cases already mentioned. The dressing-rooms and water closets are not warmed.

Each room—except the small one on the lower floor—is ventilated by a shaft, open near the floor and passing into the chimneys or loft. In these shafts a light is kept constantly burning, and an upward current of air thereby created.

In the upper school-room are fifty seats and desks. These are placed as near together as practicable: in fact the aisles are too narrow for comfort and there is not as much space as there should be either at the front or the back of the room. In the southern recitation room are twenty seats and desks and in the northern room twenty-five. In each of these rooms and in the chemical laboratory, are placed several chairs and short settees.

Such is in the main the present state of the building. As to its adequacy for the purposes for which it is used, the following facts seem clear.

(1) It is not probable that the health of the pupils suffers very much from the present condition of the building in respect to warmth and ventilation. The heating apparatus is as large as the cellar can contain and when the fire is carefully looked after and forced, heats the rooms sufficiently. It does not heat the back stairways. The radiators there give out very little warmth and the stairways can be made comfortable only by depriving the rest of the building of heat. Consequently the scholars who have to use these stairways in going to recitations are in cold weather subjected to a sudden chill on their way from one warm room to another, and it is not unlikely that some injury to health has been thus caused. As outer clothing has to be left in the unwarmed dressing-rooms scholars are exposed, on wet days, to the danger of wearing damp garments at recess and after school. The ventilating apparatus works, on the whole, reasonably well except in the northern recitation room where the result is not satisfactory. Under certain conditions of the atmosphere or wind, the ventilation is not good, but ordinarily the air can be kept fairly pure. In short it may be said that while scholars are exposed to some dangers that they would not incur in a properly constructed modern building and thereby suffer at times some temporary inconvenience and illness, they may, provided they are not of unusual delicacy of constitution, attend school without serious risk.

(2) Some studies cannot be pursued properly for lack of suitable accommodations. Of these the principal ones are the natural sciences, particularly chemistry and physics. The importance of scientific studies in any system of education hardly needs to be argued at the present day. It is equally clear that in such studies a pupil obtains the best results only by himself performing many of the experiments that illustrate the laws of Nature. In this way alone he is likely to obtain clear ideas and lasting impressions of the subject. Accordingly in most good schools and colleges where science is seriously studied, much of the student's work is laboratory work. But in our school there is not room enough for such work to be done by the scholars except in a very limited way. The school has considerable scientific apparatus and with a large enough laboratory, these studies could be advantageously pursued. As it is, while there is no lack of interest and good-will on the part of teachers and pupils, much of the good which might be gained by the latter is unavoidably lost. In a less degree other scientific studies suffer in the same way. Drawing also is at a disadvantage for like reasons.

(3) Recitations, study and order are all hampered by the crowded condition and defective arrangement of the building. As the main room will not accommodate more than fifty, about ten scholars now have their seats in each recitation room. When to these is added one of the larger classes for reciting, the room contains more pupils than the seats and desks will accommodate, and some have to use the chairs and settees, where they have no facilities for taking notes,—an important part of most recitations. The black-board space is also insufficient for the larger classes. Like difficulty is found in the main room whenever it is necessary to have the whole school there—as for lessons in music. As the recitation rooms can be reached only by means of the back stairways, there is considerable noise and confusion when scholars are going up and down between recitations—the stairways being narrow and with several turns. The noise and movement that in one way or another are going on much of the time are a hindrance to study and make the maintenance of order more difficult—not so much from any fault of the scholars who generally have shown a praiseworthy disposition to make the best of their surroundings—as from the fact that study and good order are greatly facilitated by quiet and not over-crowded school-rooms. If the school possessed a main room large enough to accommodate all its students, if it had sufficiently large recitation rooms, used for that purpose only, which could be reached easily and quietly, its work would be freed from the hindrances above spoken of, and would presumably be better done.

(4) The disadvantages will become greater in the near future. There are about seventy scholars at present in the school. If, as now seems likely, the number should exceed eighty or eighty-five next fall, more scholars must sit in the recitation rooms and all the present discomforts and disadvantages will be intensified. In fact it will be a serious problem how to find room even for chairs and settees. And in succeeding years it is reasonable to expect an increase rather than a decrease in numbers.

As a special committee has been appointed by the town to consider the advisability of building a new school-house, this Board do not desire here to do more than to state the present condition of the building.

Repairs of School-houses.

The principal repairs made during the year upon the various buildings have been as follows: At the High School, the roof has been mended and the leaks stopped for the present. The upper room has been kalsomined. It does not seem desirable to spend any more money than is absolutely necessary upon this building.

At the Russell School the sanitary arrangements in the basement are those of the Smead system, which was introduced in 1889. The main features of this system are two: the provisions to secure good ventilation so as to prevent noxious gases from getting into the basement and rooms, and those to secure the drying and burning of the deposits. It may be said that the system is reasonably successful in the first respect—not that it is absolutely perfect on all occasions, but on the whole the ventilation is usually good. In the second respect, the system has not as yet worked so well. The contractors have shown every disposition to improve and perfect the plan. No part of the contract price has yet been paid them, or is to be paid until the arrangement works satisfactory. New urinals with a slate foundation have been put in, and two large cesspools made. The cellar of this building has been newly concreted. Four rooms on the first floor have been kalsomined.

The Crosby and Locke school-houses have been painted, and some improvements in the ventilating apparatus made in the Locke building. In all the buildings desks, chairs, black-boards, etc., have been renewed and repaired and the usual small repairs necessary to keep the school-houses in good condition have been made.

Changes of Teachers.—Studies.

At the High School there have been two changes of teachers. Miss Simmons, on account of ill health, was unable to teach this year. She was given leave of absence for the year, and Miss Anna E. Gooding was appointed in her place. Miss Williams declined a reappointment at the end of the last school year, having been chosen to a position in the city of New York, and Miss M. Helen Teel was elected as third assistant. Misses Gooding and Teel are graduates of our grammar and high schools, and of Boston University, have taught with success elsewhere and are doing excellent work here.

While believing that ordinarily it is wise for scholars to attend the High School four years, the Committee are aware that in some cases a shorter course is expedient. Accordingly it is intended at the beginning of the next school-year to arrange studies so that a two-years' course may be pursued, to be complete in itself and yet form a part of the longer course. The intention of the Committee is to meet the wants of pupils who desire to go beyond the grammar school studies and yet are unable to remain in school long enough to complete the High School course. Such a course should be made to bear as directly as possible upon the scholar's requirements after he leaves school, while avoiding the mistake of attempting to teach by lessons from books what can be actually learned only from practical experience. Due notice will be given to those interested of the establishment and details of this course.

At the Russell, Crosby and Cutter Schools there have been no changes of teachers since the date of the last report. Miss Pierce withdrew from the principalship of the Locke School at the end of the spring term. Miss Pierce had taught here for many years, and was regarded by the Committee as a careful and good teacher. Miss Mary J. Copeland, the teacher of the fourth and fifth classes, was appointed to fill the vacancy, the Committee having reason to believe from her previous success, that she had the qualifications necessary to the place. Miss Sarah R. Carter, an experienced teacher, was appointed in Miss Copeland's place.

The general plan of studies in the grammar and primary schools is so well established that no sweeping changes can be looked for or desired. The common consent of many generations has settled what shall be the main branches of education in the public schools. The variations that occur from year to year are mainly caused by the occasional redistribution of the time to be devoted to each study, and by improvements in method, consequent upon the advance that is being made in the art of teaching. The town is fortunate in possessing earnest teachers whose best endeavors are devoted to the welfare of the children under their charge, and it must not be inferred from the fact that in the annual reports of the Committee it is impossible to mention many details, that improvements are not constantly taking place.

Music and Drawing.

These special studies are placed under the supervision of a sub-committee of the Board which reports substantially as follows:

Much progress in music has been made during the past year under the direction of Mr. F. L. Diman who was appointed teacher of music in December, 1889. He has given special attention to the advanced classes with marked success. The results achieved in our schools have been due to constant study and practice, continued from the lowest grade of the primary school to the end of the High School course. The musical training obtained enables many of our scholars to read music easily and to sing in choral societies, a proof of its thoroughness and desirability. Music should always be one of the studies in our schools. Not only is it of advantage to scholars who are to follow other callings, but it is especially valuable to those who are to become teachers and so required to instruct others. The best system should be followed and the best possible instruction secured for all our schools.

Drawing has been placed upon a better footing this year by the appointment of a special teacher, Miss B. I. George, at the opening of the September term. A good beginning has been made and the progress of the scholars is already marked. Prang's system has been adopted and even the younger classes seem to follow readily and with interest the instruction given them. It is reasonable to expect a good degree of success in this study during the coming year.

Discipline.—Irregularity of Attendance.

There has been little difficulty in the schools in regard to discipline. Their efficiency has suffered this year as in former years from an evil in great measure avoidable—truancy and frequent absence.

Cases of truancy—of wilful and unnecessary absence from school—usually occur without the knowledge and against the will of parents, and are hard for teachers to manage, from the difficulty of ascertaining whether an absence is excusable or not. The best means to deal with this matter is for the truant officer to call frequently at the school-house, obtain the names of suspected truants and visit their homes at once. Such a course prevents as well as detects truancy, for the would-be truant is often deterred by the knowledge that his causeless absence from school will be promptly discovered and made known to his parents. It is not invidious to mention here the important services Mr. George D. Moore, the truant officer in the Russell district, has rendered by this course of proceeding.

Irregularity of attendance permitted by parents is a still more widespread evil. Of course it would be absurd to hold that nothing should be allowed to interfere with a child's attendance at school. Occasional absences where his own or his parents' advantage requires them are reasonable and to be expected. But it is too much forgotten that school occupies in a child's life much the same place as a business, trade or other calling does in the life of his elders, and it is as idle to expect good results from neglect and indifference in the one case as in the other. In fact the business of education will bear fewer interruptions than most other kinds of business. The work of each week or month so far presupposes and requires an acquaintance with what has been taught in the previous week or month, that absence to any serious extent ordinarily not only deprives a scholar of instruction during the time he is away, but interferes with his understanding of his subsequent lessons. The failure of scholars to be promoted at the end of the year, with the consequent disappointment and loss of time, can often be traced directly to this cause. As has been said, some absence is doubtless necessary, but the investigations of teachers and truant officers show that much of it has no better reason than the slight convenience of parents or children—an advantage out of proportion to the serious injury to the pupil which is caused not merely by the interruption of his lessons, but by his obtaining the impression that regularity of attendance at school is not of importance. It must not be supposed that this criticism applies to the great majority of scholars. But after making all proper exceptions and allowances there remains an evil which constitutes a serious drawback to the benefits which our schools might confer, which can only be remedied or mitigated by the thoughtfulness and care of parents.

In conclusion the Committee would commend the schools to the community. If public education is one of the most expensive interests of the town, it is incalculably the most important of them. We should see to it that the already high standard of our schools shall not be lowered through any fault of ours.

For the School Committee,

JAMES P. PARMENTER,

Chairman.

SELECTMEN'S REPORT.

The Annual Report of the Selectmen of the town, for the year ending Dec. 31, 1891, is herewith respectfully presented.

Highways.

Amount appropriated by the town,			$15,000 00
"	"	for sidewalks,	1,000 00
"	"	for Academy street,	800 00
"	"	for Warren street and Lewis avenue,	2,000 00
"	"	for culvert over Alewife brook,	3,200 00

For details of expenditure see the Treasurer's report.

On account of the grading of the streets being extended late into the fall of 1890, and of the early frost, the thorough cleaning of the streets was omitted, consequently, this was the first work done in the spring.

Academy Street.

That portion of the street near Maple street for which $800 was appropriated has been graded, so as to drain the part that was flooded after every rain. The cost exceeded the appropriation by $30. The portion of the street near J. H. Hardy's has been raised, a retaining wall built along the line of Wm. T. Foster's, and a brick drain constructed across the street, thus making a much needed improvement at a cost of about $850. This seems a large expenditure, but the drainage of this section, including Gray and Jason streets, has been a source of great trouble to former Boards of Selectmen. This year satisfactory arrangements were made with the abutters, so that all claims for damages have been satisfactorily settled, and a right secured to drain the surface water through the lands from Academy street to Spy Pond, at a small expense when compared with the benefits derived. A portion of the cost has been received from the abutters.

Arlington Avenue.

In constructing the new bridge at Alewife brook, the grade was raised, making it necessary to stone and gravel quite a distance. About $3600 was spent in rebuilding the culvert and the approaches thereto. Other parts of the avenue have been patched with stone and gravel. With the exception of the culvert on the avenue no large amount has been expended this year. The fences have been set back to the line given by the County Commissioners. There will be quite a large amount required for the avenue the coming season, as many places need coating over with stone and gravel, especially the portions near the lane to the stone crusher, and from Park avenue to Vine street.

Acton Street.

This street leading from Appleton street to the town pit should be finished early the coming season. It has always been left until fall and the frost comes before we get to it. There has already been gravel enough taken from the street to pay the expenses and there is still considerable left.

Appleton Street.

This street has been patched in many places and the gutters kept cleared. There will be quite a large amount required to put the street in good condition, as the County Commissioners have widened and straightened the portion of the street between Arlington avenue and Vine street.

Broadway

Has been repaired in many places and the part near Alewife brook should receive early attention.

Henderson Street.

The part accepted by the town has been covered with blue gravel and rolled, making this one of the best streets in town.

Pleasant Street.

This street, between the residence of S. Payson Prentiss and Spring valley, has been graded and covered with crushed stone to a depth of nine inches and thoroughly rolled and coated with screened blue gravel at a cost of $2650. In lowering the grade there was a large amount of gravel suitable for streets where there is but little travel. This was put on side streets and should be credited to the the expense of this street, which would make the cost about $2000. A part of this street, from Arlington avenue to Maple street, should be macadamized the coming season and the street would then be in a good condition its entire length.

Mystic Street.

This street near S. A. Fowle's has been coated over with stone and gravel and patched in many places. Other portions need repairing.

North Union Street.

About half the length of this street has been graded with blue gravel, and the sides filled, making sidewalks nearly the whole length.

Winter Street

Has been patched but it is impossible to make a good street without a thorough overhauling. The grade needs to be changed so as to give better drainage. There are too many trees shading the street and preventing its drying up quickly after a rain.

Russell Street.

This street has been covered with blue gravel its entire length, and well rolled. The street is now in good condition and will last many years.

Park Avenue

Has been kept in a fair condition by making such repairs as were needed. The street in many places is becoming flat and rough and should be crowned with gravel the coming season.

Maple Street.

The grade of this street had to be changed near Academy street to correspond with that street, and on account of a ledge here the work was quite expensive. The street has been coated with blue gravel nearly its entire length.

Westminster Avenue.

A portion of this street from Lexington line to the residence of Nathan Nourse has been put in good condition by crowning the street with blue gravel, and the sidewalks have been coated over with screened gravel.

Montague Avenue

Has been crowned by picking the outside edges and scraping to the centre and then covering with blue gravel.

Wollaston Avenue.

This avenue was laid out 60 feet wide but was built 40 feet thus leaving a deep fill upon the north side 20 feet in width. The course pursued the last two years has been to use all of the street scrapings in that section to make the fill. If this is continued it will soon be filled its entire width at very little cost.

Other streets have been patched in many places and the loose stone raked off. Gutters have been cleaned and the retaining fences kept in repair.

Sidewalks have been kept in repair with screened gravel and stone dust. There has been a very large amount of concreting done this season, and about 900 feet of edgestone have been set, the abutters having furnished the stone.

Drainage.

The drain on Arlington avenue near F. F. Squire's has been repaired by laying a foot pipe across the avenue connecting directly with the drain through Barnes lane. Thus far this has proved sufficient to carry off the water from this section of the street.

Warren Street and Lewis Avenue

Have been drained by laying a 20-inch pipe along Warren street through the driveway on the south side of the cemetery, with a foot pipe along Lewis avenue across Medford street connecting with the 20-inch drain at the cemetery gate. As the pipe has been laid with a foot fall in 100 feet with suitable catch-basins to take the water from the low places along the street it looks as though this would obviate all trouble for many years. The sum expended amounts to about $1965.

Academy street has already been referred to.

Teams and Tools.

These are in good condition except the watering carts. They are past keeping in repair, and there should be one added every year until they have all been replaced by new carts. We have bought one double cart and two horses the past year, as last year two horses were kept in each of the hosehouses, Wm. Penn and Highland, for fire duty and have also been used upon the highways.

Watering Streets.

The contract for watering Arlington avenue from Tufts street to Alewife brook, Pleasant street and Mystic street was awarded to Eli Fletcher, the town teams attending to the remainder. The custom has been to raise a part of the expense of watering by subscriptions for the last few years, leaving a balance to be taken out of the highway appropriation. While it is an advantage to have the streets watered, we think there ought to be more money raised by subscription; we would suggest that the town raise $1050 to be used upon streets where the abutters raise the same amount.

Street Lights.

Our streets are lighted by the Somerville Electric Light Company under a contract made last year and which expires May 1, 1893, for $6240 per year for 213 incandescents and 29½ arcs on a basis of 40 cents for arc and 6⅔ for incandescent per night. Deductions are allowed at the rate of 40 cents for the arc and 7 cents for the incandescent per night.

Under the contract our streets are lighted from dusk until one o'clock 20 nights each and every month according to moon schedule, so called, or during such nights as may be determined to the amount of 240 nights per year. The company also agrees to run the lights upon other cloudy or stormy nights when requested to do so by the Selectmen for $15 for each extra night the lamps are so lighted. An arrangement has been made with the company so that instead of lighting as formerly 20 nights per month we now have 22 nights. The first four nights the lights are put out when the moon rises.

Almshouse.

The contract for improving the sanitary arrangements of this place, which were much needed, was awarded to Mr.

R. W. Shattuck for $340. The work was done in a first class manner, and to the satisfaction of the Board. The chimneys have been rebuilt from the roof up and other needed repairs have been attended to. At a small expense this place can be kept in good repair another season. Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Proctor resigned last spring and Mr. B. F. Durgin was appointed as superintendent of the almshouse, and to the best of our judgment has given perfect satisfaction. Mr. and Mrs. Durgin show good judgment in the care of inmates and buildings.

Town House.

At the annual town meeting $400 was appropriated, together with the unexpended balance $795.95 from last year's appropriation and the income, which has been used to reslate the roof, which was done in a very satisfactory manner by C. S. Parker & Sons for $729. The ceilings and walls in the hall and ante-rooms, on both upper and lower stories, should be retinted and painted. An additional safe should also be provided for the town records, owing to the inconvenience caused by limited capacity of the present one. As the records and valuable papers are constantly increasing, some arrangement should be made immediately for more room, and we recommend the building of a fireproof vault in the corner of the Selectmen's room, adjoining the present safe, which can be done at a very small cost, probably not exceeding $300. The grounds around the town house have for many years been very unsightly, especially so since the removal of the old depot, and many ways have been suggested for beautifying the same. The town, not wishing to do the whole, your Selectmen early in the year conferred with officials of the Boston and Maine Railroad, and finally a satisfactory arrangement was made whereby one of the grandest transformations was accomplished that has taken place in town for years, and at a small expense to the town in comparison with the benefits derived. The railroad company furnished all the loam used in grading and the concrete and granite edgestone adjoining their lands, the town furnishing the labor and the balance of concrete and edgestone, at an expense of $396.77 which was taken from the town house appropriation.

Coal.

The town was supplied with coal by Mr. Warren A. Peirce, he being the lowest bidder.

The prices were, Honey Brook Lehigh at $5.55 per ton; George's Creek Cumberland at $3.97 per ton; furnace, egg, stove at $4.88 per ton.

Police and Fire Departments.

Details of these departments will be found in the reports of the Chiefs and Town Treasurer.

Cemeteries.

The report on cemeteries will be found in another place, as this year the Cemetery Committee was consolidated with the Trustees of the Robbins' and Soldiers' Monument Funds.

Respectfully submitted.

ARLINGTON, Dec. 31, 1891.

REPORT OF WATER COMMISSIONERS.

As required, the commissioners respectfully submit their report for the year 1891.

Very much the usual order of things has existed during the past year relative to the water works.

The quantity of water has held up quite favorably with that of previous years. This has enabled us to furnish consumers a quantity, quite satisfactory, through the year, although not quite the same can be said for the quality; for during a part of the year, especially the hot weather, complaint is made by takers, of a taste in the water, not altogether pleasant..

As one of the causes for this state of the water it may be said that pond and brook waters must of course absorb more or less of the vegetable substances with which they come in contact, also exposure in shallow depths, to the action of sun's rays, has no doubt much to do with the "peaty" or "pondy" taste.

Although, as has been proven by a long series of analysis, nothing of an injurious nature comes of these imperfections, they are a serious drawback to the interests of the town, and should be gotten rid of with as little expense to the town as possible.

Our water while coursing along the brooks through the Winship and Reed lands is of excellent appearance, a convincing argument that the unsatisfactory condition of the water is brought about after it flows into the reservoir.

The minds of the citizens of the town are no doubt very much exercised over this water question, those without as well as those with a supply, having equal cause for complaint.

Your commissioners would be very glad to institute a remedy for this condition of the water, but, having considered the question for the past year, fail to discover any plan more feasible than that presented in the report of last year.

It has been found unnecessary to recommend for the ensuing year any sum to meet a deficiency of income for the payment of interest on water scrip, from the fact that of the $217,000 of six per cent. bonds which fell due Jan. 1, 1892, $34,000 was paid out of the sinking-fund, and the balance $183,000 was refunded at four per cent., one-half twenty and one-half thirty years, thereby saving the town $4340 in interest.

Eleven thousand dollars will be required to meet the interest on the remaining $257,000 now outstanding for the ensuing year.

By comparing this with water receipts for the past year, it will be found that a surplus will remain in favor of receipts providing they hold up to those of last year.

The receipts from water-rates as shown by the Treasurer's report have been $15,493.11 for the year; this sum is in excess of that of last year by $2017.58 made up as follows: $1017.58 from actual increase of takers (mostly through new services, number for the year forty-one), and by an increase of $1000 charged the town for use of hydrants and stand-pipes.

The running expenses for the year have exceeded those of last year by the sum of $468.46. The chief cause of this was the change of grade on Academy and Maple streets. In doing this cuts were made necessitating the lowering of the water pipes, the "ledgy" condition of these streets made it an expensive job, and in justice to the water works account should have been borne by the especial appropriation or department of highways.

The condition of the bridge over the waste-water way at the reservoir was such that it became necessary to replace it with a new one. The expense for material and labor upon this work amounted to $65.42. Usual repairs have come in for attention during the year; among others it was found necessary to do quite a job in this direction at the "tunnel" so called, which prevented part of the masonry from becoming displaced. It is now in good condition.

Pipe breakage has rather increased during the year; the same streets as in previous years seem to have given us trouble,—Lake street, Avon place and Main street, in which were laid cement-lined pipe, there being no trouble with cast-iron pipe. The change by widening the avenue at Alewife brook, was the cause of quite an outlay by putting in a "blow-off" and change of pipe.

New Hydrants.

Seven new hydrants have been placed during the year, two of them in place of old ones which can be used for repairs oftentimes. Number of hydrants set and ready for use in the town 114.

New Services.

Number of services put in during the year forty-one. Total cost $419.84, which averages $10.24 each. The cost of this particular branch of the work for the past three years, proves this to be about what the cost of services must be.

New Pipe.

This year has proved no exception as regards demands for new pipe; 1680 feet 4-inch cast-iron pipe has been laid during the year as follows:

Bartlett Avenue.

360 feet 4-inch iron pipe cost	$97 20
1 hydrant set,	29 20
Labor,	189 94
Materials, gate, etc.,	34 35
	$350 69

This completes the laying of 984 feet 4-inch pipe upon this avenue, which virtually pipes the entire length as now laid out. Houses already built give a good income on the investment.

Swan Street.

396 feet 4-inch pipe cost	$106 92
1 hydrant set,	29 20
Labor,	81 03
Materials, gate, etc.,	34 76
	$251 91

This is a new street laid out through what was the Bucknam estate from Pleasant street to Swan's court.

Addison Street.

780 feet 4-inch iron pipe cost	$210 60
2 hydrants set,	58 40
Labor,	245 73
Materials, gate, tees, etc.,	54 83
	$569 56

This one outlay pipes the entire length of this street, a new one from Pleasant street to the pond through the Gage estate. The labor bill on this job shows a large amount, from the fact that we encountered a ledge necessitating much blasting.

Remodelling of old houses and building of new ones, bid fair to make water receipts from this street satisfactory.

Palmer Street.

144 feet 4-inch iron pipe cost	$38 88
1 hydrant set,	29 20
1 gate,	9 25
Labor,	24 14
Materials,	9 27
	$110 74

This is a new street running through Wyman's land from the avenue to Broadway. The laying of this pipe is made as a beginning, and the setting of the hydrant as a guard against fire in the vicinity.

We again feel it our duty to ask that an appropriation be granted by the town for the extending of main pipes, setting of hydrants, etc., as in the judgment of the commissioners it shall seem for the best interest of the town to do.

Mr. Thomas Roden still remains in charge of the work.

Amount of stock and materials on hand Dec. 31, 1891, $799.93.

For detailed statement, we refer you to Treasurer's report.

The force consists of a chief and four patrolmen. The same as last year. August 1, John Duffy was appointed a regular officer to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William O. Austin. By his death the town lost a good and efficient officer, he having been appointed as patrolman in 1885.

The town has been fortunate in that no serious crimes have been committed during the year. The growth of our town is evidently permanent. New streets are opened up, new and expensive houses are being built every year, making more miles of streets to cover and more property for the officers to look after.

The route at the lower end of the town is so large that one officer cannot give it that attention it should have; it should be divided and the others somewhat changed, and another officer put on for night duty. Arlington, for its number of miles of streets, and number of inhabitants, with steam and electric cars to look after, for drunks and disorderly people that may come by them, has not the number of officers to do the work that other towns of about the same size have. I call your attention to the fact, that calls for police in the daytime are growing more frequent. The chief in the discharge of his duty is frequently obliged to be away for hours at a time, and often all day, and it becomes necessary to call out a patrolman who has been on duty all night, in order to have some one at the Station. There should be an officer in the Station, or within call, at all times when the chief is away; at other times he could be on the street in some other part of the town.

I recommend that two more officers be appointed, one for day and one for night duty.

By a law passed in 1891 all fines that are paid in court go to the town or city, so the town gets back some of the expenses of the Police Department.

There have been nine convictions for violating the liquor law; several places have been searched but nothing found, while there are places that the officers have reason to believe may sell at times, yet it has not been possible, so far, to get evidence against them. There have been prosecutions made whenever we could get evidence to justify taking out warrants.

The Sunday travel to Arlington the past summer was greater than ever before, making it necessary to place a larger number of special officers on duty almost every Sunday, as long as the warm weather lasted. In this connection, I would say that I think the same care and caution should be exercised in the selection of special officers as in that of the regular officers. Any or all of them are subject to call at any time.

In submitting my report, I desire to thank the honorable Board of Selectmen, also Town Clerk, B. Delmont Locke, and Wm. H. H. Tuttle, Esq., for counsel and friendly advice.

Respectfully submitted.

EUGENE MEAD,
Chief of Police.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

CHIEF ENGINEER OF THE ARLINGTON FIRE DEPARTMENT.

To the Hon. Board of Selectmen :

GENTLEMEN — I have the honor herewith to submit to you the Annual Report of the Fire Department, the same being my fourteenth report of the Fire Department of this town.

The fire loss for the year has been exceptionally light, the Department having answered but eight calls, as follows :

March 14th. Alarm 4.05 P.M., Box 25. Fire, Wm. H. Allen's tenement house, Warren street. Cause, children playing with matches. Damage slight.

April 5th. Alarm 7.45 P.M., Box 36. Fire, roof of Wm. Whytal's store, Arlington avenue. Cause, spark from a locomotive. Damage slight.

April 24th. Alarm, 3.45 P.M., Box 61. Fire, grass on F. G. Sampson's land, Eastern avenue. Cause, incendiary. Damage slight.

May 11th. Alarm 11.15 P.M., Box 26. Fire, hay stack, Patrick Kelley on Franklin street. Cause, incendiary. Loss $10.

July 4th. Alarm 1.20 A.M., Box 24. Fire, B. F. Wood's mill on Parallel street. Cause, incendiary. Loss, about $1100. No insurance.

October 5th. Alarm 1.05 A.M., Box 43. Fire, Saw Factory on Grove street. Cause, incendiary. No loss.

December 1st. Alarm 11.55 P.M., Box 41. No fire. Frank Lewis rang in alarm for Police, for which he was arrested and released next day on promise of good behavior.

December 13th. Alarm 3.35 A.M., Box 39. Fire, stable occupied by F. P. Ladd on Willow court. Cause, incendiary. Loss, $21. Insurance paid, $21.

MEMBERSHIP.

The membership of the Department is the same as last year, with the exception of one new member having been added to the Chemical Company.

The pay of the Eagle Hose Company has been raised from ten to twenty dollars per annum.

The Firemen's Relief Association has been organized under the laws of the State, which we think is a good thing for the town, and also for the members, as it has a tendency to promote harmony and good feeling in the Department.

FIRE ALARM.

The efficiency of this branch of the service has been perfectly maintained throughout the year. Line troubles have been reduced to a minimum. This branch has been under the charge of A. F. Brooks.

A signal "No School" Box has been added during the past year (No. 22), said signal being given at 8.15 A.M. and at 12.45 P.M. Given at any other time than the hour designated the Department will answer as to an alarm of fire.

BUILDINGS AND APPARATUS.

The buildings are in very good condition, having undergone considerable repairing during the past year.

The Hook and Ladder Truck has recently been repainted and repaired generally, including which was a new pair of wheels.

Hose Carriage No. 3 will need some repairs immediately; Hose Wagon No. 2 should be varnished as soon as possible.

I would suggest that some new hose be purchased during the coming year, none having been purchased for about three years. If the supply is not kept up a large appropriation will be needed at a later day to replenish the supply.

I will again call your attention to the long distance the hydrants are apart in the more thickly settled portions of the town. No hydrants on the Avenue have been added since the construction of the Water Works: on the contrary, some have been taken away.

I will again suggest that a four-way post hydrant be placed near the town house, instead of the flush hydrant now in use. Also that a hydrant be placed near S. A. Fowle's mill, and near William T. Wood & Co.'s Ice Tool Manufactory.

APPROPRIATIONS.

I would recommend an appropriation of $4000 to meet the expenses of the coming year.

In closing I wish to express my thanks to your honorable Board, to my Engineers, to the members of the Department, and also to Chief Police Mead for furnishing officers at the fires which have occurred during the year.

Respectfully submitted.

REPORT

OF THE

TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

To the Town of Arlington:

The general work of the Public Library has been carried on during the past year in substantially the same manner as heretofore. The Librarian's Statement shows in a compact form some of the leading facts as to the condition of the Library, and the extent of its use. It should be remembered however, that one important feature — the use made of the reading-room — does not appear in these statistics. The reading-room has now been established for about five years, and its value has long ceased to be doubtful. In it are placed many books of reference — cyclopædias, dictionaries, etc. — and bound volumes of leading magazines, of which the current numbers are to be found upon the tables. All these may be freely used in the room. There has been of late years a marked increase in the use made of the reading-room — an increase especially noticeable at hours during which the main library is closed, when no other inducement for attendance exists than that which the reading-room itself offers. A large proportion of readers, especially in the evening, consists of boys and young men. Although it is necessary to enforce strict rules for silence and good order, there is little intentional disturbance; such as there is, usually arises from thoughtlessness, and is readily stopped.

In accordance with the vote of the town, a reading-room was established, early in May, as a branch of the Public Library at Arlington Heights. It is open on the afternoons and evenings of Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, except during August when it is open Tuesday and Saturday. A considerable number of leading periodicals are kept on file, and twice a week there is a delivery of books from the Library, in place of the former weekly delivery. Miss M. M. Seabury, who has been found to be well qualified for the position, has been in charge of this reading-room since it was opened. The room furnishes residents of the Heights and vicinity with many like advantages to those supplied to persons in the centre of the town by the reading-room in the Library. The extent of its use is gratifying, and it ought to be continued as a permanent branch of the Library.

During the year the resources of the Library were increased by the receipt of a legacy of five thousand dollars from the estate of the late Dea. Henry Mott. Deacon Mott was for many years a citizen of Arlington, served at different times on the Board of Selectmen as well as in other town offices, and was held in high respect and esteem in the community. In making this bequest, he evidently desired to do an act that should show his good-will towards his fellow-citizens and be of permanent benefit to the town. By investing the principal of the fund and spending the income from year to year for worthy books, his generous intention can be carried out. At present the fund is temporarily invested in a loan to the town of Arlington at four per cent. interest; the income for 1891, including interest on one-half the fund for a portion of the preceding year, amounted to $231.77.

In closing, the Trustees desire to express their thanks to those who have given to the Library books or pamphlets, especially to Mr. Charles S. Parker for his gift of the Arlington Advocate for its earlier years. This, with former gifts of Mr. Parker, furnishes to the Library a complete file of the paper from 1872, containing a record of events of local interest and importance likely to increase constantly in value.

JAMES P. PARMENTER,
For the Trustees.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

To the Town of Arlington:

The School Committee submit their annual report.

Land and Buildings.

In March last the town voted to buy as a site for a new building for the High School a portion of the estate on Academy street formerly owned by the late George Croome. Accordingly the land has since been conveyed to the town and the house removed. The lot contains 40,916 square feet, extends $166\frac{3}{10}$ feet on Academy street, and 198 feet on Maple street, and is very well adapted for the purpose.

The grade of Academy street has been considerably lowered opposite the present High School lot, and it will probably be necessary during the coming year to take some measures to support the bank that is thus left.

Comparatively few important repairs on the school buildings have been found necessary. Two new furnaces have been placed in the Cutter building, the old furnaces being so worn out that it would have been unadvisable to try to repair them. A floor of rock asphalt has been laid in the basement of the Russell School, thus doing away with the disagreeable and unwholesome dust which rose from the old cement floor. The other repairs have consisted of the ordinary small changes and renewals necessary to keep buildings and furniture in good condition.

Mention should be made here, as in former reports, of the approaching necessity for enlarged school accommodations for the Crosby district.

Changes of Teachers.

The changes of teachers during the year have been as follows: In September at the beginning of the school year it became desirable to make certain changes at the Russell School, on account of an increase in numbers in the fourth grade and a diminution in the sixth. Previously Miss Pillsbury taught the fourth grade, Misses Fell and Nightingale the two divisions of the fifth, and Misses Warren and Evans the two divisions of the sixth. By the new arrangement Miss Nightingale's school was made up of scholars from the fourth and fifth grades; Miss Pillsbury being left in charge of most of those in the fourth grade, and Miss Fell of most of those in the fifth. The two divisions of the sixth grade were consolidated and placed under Miss Warren's charge, Miss Evans being transferred to fill a situation in the Locke School. At the end of November Miss Fell resigned to accept a position in Cambridge, and at the end of the term Miss Lawrence resigned as teacher of the second primary grade. It was with regret that the Committee received the resignations of both these teachers. Miss Marietta Rose has been appointed teacher in Miss Lawrence's place. The other vacancy has been temporarily filled by the appointment of Miss Mary E. Rand as substitute teacher.

At the Cutter School Miss Brady has been unable to be in school for a considerable portion of the year on account of continued ill health. Her sister, Miss Rose Brady, who has had some previous experience in teaching in our schools, has supplied her place.

At the Locke School Miss Rogers, who had shown herself to be a careful and thorough teacher, declined a reëlection at the end of the school year. As above mentioned the Committee were so fortunate as to be able to transfer Miss Evans to fill the vacancy. At the end of the fall term Miss Blake having been appointed to a position in Cambridge resigned as teacher of the second and third primary grades. Miss Blake had marked success as a teacher in the Russell and Locke Schools, and it is to be regretted that the town loses her services.

No change of teachers has occurred at the Crosby School. At the High School Miss Gooding has continued to occupy Miss Simmons' place.

Studies.

In last year's report mention was made of a proposed two years' course in the High School, to be complete in itself and yet form a part of the longer course, in order to meet the wants of pupils who desire to go beyond the grammar school studies and cannot give the time required for the full course. Such a course has now been arranged and is being pursued by a considerable portion of the third and fourth classes. It is briefly as follows: First year—Algebra, three terms; English, three terms; Physiology, one term; Physics (elementary course), one term; Botany, one term. Second year—Geometry and Arithmetic, three terms; English, three terms; Civil Government, English and United States History, three terms.

This course has been arranged with a good deal of care, and is likely to prove of much value to those who follow it.

In the other schools the principal branches of study are the same as for many years. It is however instructive to compare the difference between the methods in use at present and those employed even so recently as ten years ago. For example the time devoted to arithmetic has been considerably shortened by the omission of portions of the subject of little practical use, and perhaps less educational benefit. The course in reading has been broadened by the extensive use of books of good authors supplementing the ordinary text-books, thus giving scholars an acquaintance with a larger vocabulary and a better class of literature than heretofore. The study of the technicalities of grammar has been much cut down, while actual practice in the use of language — especially by frequent written exercises — has been much increased. In these and similar changes our schools have shared in common with schools in the cities and towns in our neighborhood. It would be too much to say that all new methods are better than the old ones. Some have proved their right to exist; others are yet experimental and need further trial in many schools before their qualities can be determined.

Although a system of carefully-graded schools is indubitably superior to one where there is little or no grading, it has certain drawbacks. One is the too great difference between the methods of the high and those of the grammar grades. A scholar entering a high from a grammar school finds himself at once under new conditions. His studies are different, or if any subject is nominally the same, it is taken up in so advanced a way as to amount to a new study. His instructors are different. The methods of study are different, requiring ordinarily more independent effort on the scholar's part than he has been accustomed to exert. In short the transition from grammar to high school work instead of being no more difficult than from the primary to the grammar school, or from one grammar grade to another, is in fact so decided a change in surroundings and mental habits as to cause many a scholar a regrettable loss of time and unnecessary labor before he adapts himself to the new situation. In Winchester the school authorities are trying an interesting experiment, in order to meet the difficulty, by beginning several high school studies in the grammar school. A competent superintendent can do something, but so long as high and grammar schools remain separate institutions it is probable that the gap cannot be wholly bridged over.

Another defect of a graded system is most strongly felt in grammar schools. By the system a certain amount of work is laid out to be accomplished in each year, and theoretically a scholar starting in the lowest primary grade will thence regularly pass annually to the next higher grade until he completes the course, having performed in each year the amount of work which may reasonably be expected of him. Each grade, then, consists of a number of pupils of presumably about the same ability and at about the same stage of progress, — and the amount and character of the work to be done in the year is estimated at what a scholar who is neither very quick nor very slow, neither very industrious nor very lazy — or as it is usually put "the average pupil" — may accomplish with reasonable effort in that time. In fact, however, the differences among children in the same grade are very marked; not merely in industry, attention, carefulness, quickness of apprehension, power of memory, reasoning ability, and other moral and mental traits, but also in physical health and strength, and habits of regular attendance, so that the work laid out for the "average pupil" is often too much or too little for the actual pupil. A conscientious teacher in his desire that his slower scholars should profit from their lessons, is apt to make the rate of progress so slow that the quicker ones have not enough to do, while one who keeps his brighter pupils busy will find that it is at the expense of those who have been unable to do the tasks set them. The evidence is strong that in most grammar and primary schools the danger is not that too much but that too little ground be covered, or in other words, the quicker and brighter scholars are capable of doing more and better work than they are now required to perform.

It should be understood that these criticisms do not apply to Arlington more than to other communities. The defects mentioned are common, nor are even partial remedies easy to find. A closer classification of scholars would involve so many grades and so many teachers that the expense would be greater than any community ought to incur. A plan now being introduced in a near city, whereby the scholars in each grade are so divided that while all the pupils study the same subjects during the year, the better prepared scholars are given more advanced work than the rest, promises to be of service.

Music and Drawing.

The study of music has now been established in our schools many years, and belongs among regular rather than special branches. Mr. F. L. Diman has continued to act as instructor. He gives to Arlington two days in the week, and divides his time, so far as practicable, equally among the different schools. His method is that pursued by the best teachers of music, and we have no reason to doubt its value and success.

Drawing having been introduced so recently — this being but the second year of the employment of a special teacher — is naturally in a more elementary stage than music. In this study, however, as good a degree of progress has been made as could fairly be looked for. During the first part of the year it was pursued under the direction of Mr. Ludwig Frank, a very efficient teacher. He resigned in July to accept an important position as teacher in St. Louis. Miss Emma K. Parker was appointed to the position in September. The Committee believe that the study of this branch furnishes a valuable training to eye and hand, and is beneficial to scholars.

Temperance Instruction.

Considerable interest has been lately expressed in regard to temperance instruction in our schools. The laws of the Commonwealth provide for instruction in "physiology and hygiene, which are to include special instruction as to the effects of alcoholic drinks, stimulants and narcotics on the human system." It is obvious that in teaching these subjects to young children great care must be used to render them as simple and intelligible as possible. Many text-books, otherwise valuable, fail in practical usefulness through attempting to teach too much. The principles that should govern in this branch of study are well set forth in the words of a leading educator: "The teaching is to lead the child to form temperate habits of living. His knowledge of the danger of indulgence in the use of narcotics and intoxicants must lead to a development and exercise of will power sufficient to enable him to resist temptation. The education must be intellectual and moral, to induce the habits of thought and action necessary to good citizenship. The instruction should be true, simple and earnest, largely objective; illustrations may be drawn from life, pictures and recorded facts. Personalities and allusions that will wound the feelings of children should be avoided. No exaggerated statements of the evils to be shunned should be made; they are not wholly true, and they will react against the cause. For young pupils good temperance stories are valuable. I am inclined to think that most temperance teaching should be oral, the school being supplied with such books and charts as will be helpful to teacher and pupils for reference. Truths from scientific investigations, and facts and figures from other reliable sources, may prove valuable. Not so much for school as for life the children need temperance instruction, and the teacher should honestly, faithfully, as well as intelligently, endeavor to make lasting impressions."

It is the endeavor of our teachers to carry out these principles, with such variations of method as are suited to the differing ages and capacities of their pupils, and we believe that there is no reason to fear that the intent of the law is not being observed.

Superintendent of Schools.

Several years ago the question of the employment of a superintendent of schools was, it will be remembered, presented to the School Committee, and subsequently to the town. At that time the general opinion was adverse. Since then, however, the plan has been adopted in a number of towns, so that a large amount of evidence as to its actual working is now available which did not then exist. According to the latest printed report of the State Board of Education (that of 1889–90) 23 of the cities and towns of Middlesex County, containing 73 per cent. of the school population of the county, have superintendents who devote all their time to supervision; 13 towns, containing 11 per cent. of the school population have superintendents who divide their time between supervision and some other occupation; 18 towns, containing 16 per cent. of the school population, are without superintendents.

Since this report was published other towns have employed superintendents, so that at present but thirteen of the fifty-four cities and towns of Middlesex County are without such officers.

In towns where superintendents have been employed the opinion of school officials is strongly favorable to the plan. The general tenor of the opinions expressed by school committees is well illustrated by a letter to the State Board from Belmont: "In respect to the wisdom of establishing the office of superintendent in this town there can be no question. I am satisfied that the service of our superintendent, Mr. Hall, has contributed materially to the welfare of our schools, and the pupils and teachers in them. Improved methods, uniformity of instruction, and wisely directed effort have accomplished results which, in my judgment, more than repay the additional expense of superintendence.

Our Committee within the limitations of their time and abilities attend to their several duties, but they cannot be expected to furnish the schools with the useful, frequent and valuable supervision given by our superintendent, educated specially for such duty, and whose sole occupation is to perform it, and in order to do so efficiently, to keep himself familiar with the views and methods of the ablest educators of the day.

The last report of the School Committee of Winchester states, "While the present arrangement of engaging half of the time of a superintendent in connection with Medford, has proved in many ways satisfactory, and has so far been sufficient, certainly yielding many improvements to our school system, it is believed that the time has about arrived when the school work of Winchester alone will demand the whole time of a superintendent. . . The plan of supervision has proved an assured success, and is one that the town will never abandon."

Your Committee cannot disregard this sort of testimony coming from persons having opportunities to know the facts and no reason to distort the truth. Of the thirteen towns in the county not employing superintendents nine are so far below Arlington in valuation and number of inhabitants as not to be regarded as proper subjects of comparison. The remaining towns are as follows:

	Population 1890.	Valuation 1889.
Arlington	5,629	$5,209,096
Hudson.	4,670	$2,281,770
Stoneham	6,155	$3,281,950
Wakefield	6,982	$4,482,545

We have come to the conclusion that in justice to our schools a method of supervision that has proved of advantage elsewhere ought to receive at least a fair trial here in one of the forms above mentioned, either by combining the office with that of principal of a school, or by making an arrangement with another town to secure the services of a superintendent for both, as has been done by Medford and Winchester, and by Natick and Belmont.

To engage the whole time of a competent man would cost not much less than $2000, so that if Arlington should unite with another town the probable expense to each would be about $1000, provided the superintendent's time were equally divided between them. If the principal of a school should be made superintendent, the additional amount to be paid for his duties of superintendence would be, so far as we can judge from the experience of other places, from $300 to $500. Whichever form of superintendence be adopted, we are convinced that it would be an unwise economy to try to save money by employing a cheap man. An incompetent superintendent is worse than none.

We therefore purpose to ask the town to authorize us to employ a superintendent of schools, and to appropriate a sufficient amount to secure the services of a competent man.

With the foregoing statements and suggestions the School Committee commend the schools to the support of the town.

For the Committee.

"	"	for Medford street bridge,	3,500 00

For details of expenditure see the Treasurer's report.

The first work of the season was to clean the streets and patch the ruts that were made during the early spring. It has been the custom for the past few years to fill the ruts of our gravel roads with fine crushed stone early in the season. This we find gives better results than filling with gravel, as the fine stone forms a solid road-bed where the most of the wear comes. By using our fine stone in this way we fall short of that grade and it becomes necessary to buy a few tons.

Arlington Avenue.

From near the residence of Joseph Eaton to Lewis' mill, from Forest street to J. F. Hobbs' and from Linwood street to the residence of Mrs. Fisher on the west side of the West End Railroad, the avenue has been picked and levelled. A coat of crushed stone from four to nine inches in thickness was put on and well rolled, then a light coat of fine crushed stone was added, which was also rolled and covered with a very light coat of fine screened blue gravel, then rolled until the street became perfectly hard. In picking and rolling we used a steam roller, hired of Messrs. McClintock & Woodfall. Other portions of the avenue will need to be treated in the same way the coming season.

Appleton Street,

From Arlington avenue to Vine street, has been widened according to the order of the County Commissioners. The retaining walls have been rebuilt and the street has been brought to a grade so as to quickly drain after rain. The cost of this improvement was about $1600; the appropriation was $2000 and the balance, $400, was intended to be used for concreting the gutters, as the grade is very steep at the Arlington avenue end. We would recommend that the balance lay over in the Treasury for this purpose.

The portion of street between Park avenue and Claremont avenue needs early attention. We would suggest that the street be crowned with a coat of gravel and the gutters concreted,

Acton Street

Has been finished with the exception of a small piece of ledge near Mr. A. Blanchard's. This makes a very easy approach from the upper part of the town to the town pit and crusher.

Broadway.

Very little has been done on this street except to patch it in places. The drainage is very poor and the street should be graded with reference to carrying off the surface water.

Chestnut Street

Has been macadamized this season making a much needed improvement.

Eastern Avenue

Near the Park has been crowned by scraping the outside edges to the centre and then covering with gravel. That part near Highland avenue will need to be treated in the same way.

Highland Avenue

Near Eastern avenue has given a great deal of trouble every spring. It is quite low and at times flooded, causing considerable inconvenience to travel. There has been a fifteen inch drain pipe laid across the street, and the low place has been filled in. We think this will do away with all difficulty.

Lake Street,

From the ice track to the foot of the hill near Belmont line, has been coated with stone and gravel. The hill should be macadamized during the next season, and from the ice track to the Lowell Railroad should be picked, the surface levelled and covered with a fine coat of crushed stone, well rolled, and then with a light coat of screened blue gravel.

Russell Terrace

Has been crowned by picking the sides and scraping to the centre, and covered with screened blue gravel. The sidewalk on the west side has been covered with stone dust.

Summer Street,

From Brattle street to Pine street, has been coated over with stone and gravel.

Lowell Street.

This street, near the Lexington line, was badly cut up through the winter, owing to the heavily loaded stone teams carrying stone to Cambridge. As soon as the frost was out of the ground, about 2000 feet of the street was rebuilt. There was a heavy coat of coarse crushed stone put on first, and well rolled, then a coat of fine crushed stone thoroughly rolled, and this was covered with fine screened gravel, which was rolled until solid. In rolling we used a steam roller. The portion of street from the railroad bridge to Nathan Nourse's was picked, a coat of fine crushed stone was put on the centre, and well rolled. Now it is in a good condition its entire length.

Mystic Street.

The hill near the Winchester line was in a very bad condition. The surface water from the Winchester side had run down the centre of the street, making it very rough and uneven. The street was first graded by picking off the sides and filling at the foot of the hill; then there was a heavy coat of crushed stone put on, and rolled, next a light coat of fine stone, which was rolled again, and then this was covered with screened blue gravel. The hill near Arlington avenue has been gravelled.

Winter Street.

This was more of a job than was anticipated. In making the road-bed to change the grade it was found that the loam to the depth of nearly two feet had never been removed, and it became necessary to remove this nearly the entire length of the street. This necessitated a large amount of coarse filling, and for this purpose stone chips from the Cambridge ledge were used. After bringing the street to a sub-grade, a coat of coarse crushed stone, to a depth of twelve inches in the centre and six inches on the sides, was put on, and rolled, and this was covered with a fine coat two inches deep and well rolled, and over all this a light coat of fine screened blue gravel, then this was rolled until the surface became solid. A steam roller was used. The expense of this street was $2725.

Pleasant Street,

From Arlington avenue to Maple street, has been picked and the surface levelled and then a coat of fine stone about four inches in thickness was spread and rolled, and then screened gravel was put over this. The street is now in good condition its entire length.

Park Avenue,

From near Florence avenue to Appleton street and about 300 feet near Wollaston avenue, has been gravelled with a heavy coat of blue gravel. It was the intention to gravel about 1000 feet more, but, as the cold weather set in the work was stopped. This should be finished in the spring. The drain across Arlington avenue, which takes the water from the gutters of Park avenue, has been changed so as to empty into the brook. It formerly emptied into Lewis pond over land of Mr. Lewis, but had to be changed, as he erected a building over the drain.

Pine Street.

The sides of this street have been picked and scraped into the centre and then covered with blue gravel.

River Street

Has been covered with a heavy coat of stone and with gravel which was taken from Arlington avenue when the West End Railroad Co. put in their double track.

Other streets have been repaired with stone and gravel and the loose stone raked off. The gutters and catch basins have been cleaned and the retaining fences kept in repair.

Bridges.

River street bridge has been thoroughly repaired by relaying a part of the centre pier, putting in new stringers, and covering with new plank. A new railing has been put up.

Medford street bridge, known as Weir's bridge, is being newly built with heavy granite piers. The span is to be covered with heavy iron girders laid four feet apart, and the space between is to be arched with brick, and the whole is to be covered with heavy asphalt. The side walls, approaching the bridge, are built with heavy granite. Owing to the severe cold weather work has been delayed, but when the bridge is completed it will be a solid structure and a very great improvement.

Sidewalks.

The sidewalks in many places have been covered with screened gravel and stone dust. Some concrete walks and crossings have been laid, but more attention needs to be paid to the walks, and more money should be raised for this purpose. About 1000 feet of edgestones have been set, the abutters furnishing the stone.

Watering Streets.

In watering the streets, the horses kept for fire purposes were used near the centre of the town. Eli Fletcher took the contract to water Arlington avenue from Tufts street to Alewife brook, Pleasant street and Mystic street.

Teams and Tools.

There are at present nine horses. One having died last fall, and one being used for the offal wagon, makes the Highway department two short of their usual number. A pair will have to be purchased next spring. They have all been insured and we think this the safer plan. The road carts are in a good condition, but the watering carts are getting old and past repair. A new one should be bought this season. The tools are in a good condition.

Drinking Fountain.

The ice used in cooling the water in this fountain has been furnished by the local ice man, Mr. C. W. Ilsley. The fountain being a new accommodation last year, the ice was donated by Mr. Ilsley. It consumed a number of tons. This year it has been furnished at half price.

Almshouse.

Mr. B. F. Durgin was re-appointed as Superintendent of the Almshouse, and to the best of our judgment has given perfect satisfaction. Mr. and Mrs. Durgin show good judgment in the care of the inmates and buildings.

Town House.

The additional safe spoken of in last year's report has been provided for the town records, and other valuable papers. This has been built as recommended by last year's board at an expense of $300. Other than this, but little has been expended on the building during the year.

Coal.

The town was supplied with coal by Peirce & Winn Company, they being the lowest bidders.

The prices were, George's Creek Cumberland at $3.74 per ton, furnace $5.24, egg $5.49, stove $5.74.

Police and Fire Department.

Reports of these departments will be found in the reports of the Chiefs and Town Treasurer.

Offal.

At our November meeting the town voted to raise $1000 for the purpose of collecting offal and ashes. The money has been nearly spent. This was to carry the work along until the March meeting. The offal has been sold to Mr. W. W. Rawson to March first, for the sum of $50. This our first attempt in this line of work we believe has proved a great success, and we recommend its continuance.

Street Lights.

Our streets are lighted by the Somerville Electric Light Company under a contract made two years ago, which expires May 1, 1893. A new contract will have to be made then. It has been suggested that the town furnish its own Electric Lights, and we think this may be brought about in connection with High Service.

Respectfully submitted.

WINFIELD S. DURGIN,
GEORGE D. TUFTS,
EDWARD S. FESSENDEN,
Selectmen of Arlington.

ARLINGTON, Jan. 1, 1893.

REPORT OF WATER COMMISSIONERS.

As required, the commissioners submit their report for the year 1892.

In submitting the same, we are pleased to be able to say, that matters connected with the water-works for the past year show a very favorable improvement.

We have put in forty-three street services, at an average cost of $10.30.

Pipes have been laid in the following streets:

Draper avenue,	4-inch iron pipe,	432 feet.
Fairview avenue,	" "	576 "
Whittemore street,	" "	336 "
		1,344 feet.

In connection with each of these, a fire hydrant was set, making the total number of hydrants in town at the present time, 117.

The amount received from water rates for 1892 was $16,432.27, an increase of $939.16 over 1891. Amount of balance cash on hand December 31, 1892, $2877.80.

The Treasurer's report will give a detailed statement of receipts and expenditures.

The amount paid for interest for the year 1892 was $11,020, against $16,720 in 1891, a difference of $5700.

This is occasioned by the payment of $217,000 six per cent. Water Scrip, which fell due January 1, 1892, from the proceeds of the sale of $183,000 four per cent. Water Bonds, the balance, $34,000, being furnished from the sinking fund.

The amount of Water Bonds at this date is:

$74,000 at five per cent. per annum,	$3,700 00
183,000 at four " "	7,320 00
	$11,020 00

It will be seen that no appropriation was made for interest on Water Scrip in 1892.

This is the first year in the history of the works, that the system has been self-sustaining, a condition, which, to say the least, is very gratifying; and, with the balance on hand, as shown above, together with the very probable amount of receipts for water rates for the coming year, the commissioners see no cause to doubt but that sufficient funds will be in hand, to meet necessary obligations, without asking the town for an appropriation for the coming year.

We anticipate the laying of considerable new pipe during the coming year, from which source is realized much of the yearly additional income. Especially is it the purpose of the commissioners to extend the pipe in Jason street, now that a grade has been established; but for this reason, and this alone, it would have been done before now. Business principles demand that the grade of all streets be established before pipe is laid in them.

The water question, as referred to in the commissioners' report of two years ago, still presents itself as of great importance to the town.

One of the ideas suggested, that of diverting the supply of water so that it should not enter the reservoir, has been carried out.

It would have been well, no doubt, to have made the change before; but so long as a deficiency of income existed from year to year, to meet expenses it was thought best to defer action; but the financial condition of the water works was found this year, considerably changed for the better; and this fact, together with the state of the water, prompted action.

All will see, of course, that the move was more or less experimental, but the exigencies of the case warranted the taking of chances, with results that speak for themselves.

The water was introduced, direct from the supply brook, into a 20-inch Akron pipe at a point some 300 feet above the reservoir, thence carried along the north bank of the reservoir about 1300 feet, there entering the main distribution pipe.

The laying of this pipe was found to be considerable of an undertaking. In order to make grade, much of the way was, of necessity, very deep; ledges were also encountered, necessitating much blasting; but, for all this, the commissioners felt that the probable result to be obtained would warrant the outlay.

The water was introduced into this pipe system July 6, last, and we feel that from that time to the present, the benefits, together with the satisfaction derived from the change for the better in the quality of the water, are beyond question.

It was also thought advisable, the better to protect the purity of the water supply, that a pipe be laid, to take the drainage from the Winship farm, to the waste brook below the reservoir.

A 10-inch pipe has been laid for this purpose, for a greater part of the way, which will be carried to completion as soon as conditions will permit. A connection was also made with the water main, so that this drain-pipe can be used for flushing, should occasion require.

Much more can be said in regard to the water question. This new arrangement, in so far as it goes, is very well.

The capacity of this system was put to considerable of a test last summer, and it stood up wonderfully well,—much beyond expectations, and we think those who received the water were well pleased at the improvement shown; but we are satisfied, however, that the condition of the water service, as to the amount of supply, is not adequate to our wants for domestic and fire purposes in all parts of the town, and it is the idea of your commissioners, as expressed in previous reports, that some move should be made toward supplying sections, which, from location or other causes, are unable to obtain a supply of water from the town; permission to issue $150,000 water bonds, in case they are wanted for this purpose, having already been obtained from the legislature.

Some inconvenience has been caused during the cold weather, by street service pipes freezing. Some pipe breakage has also occurred during the year (but not quite as much as last) notably on the same streets, as reported in former years.

Mr. Thomas Roden, as for the past few years, remains in charge of the work.

Amount of stock and materials on hand, December 31, 1892, $877.97.

The force consists of chief and five patrolmen. In my report of last year I asked for two more men, one for day and one for night duty, as I wished to divide the route at the lower part of the town, as it is so large one man cannot cover all the streets as they should be. But the town voted to appoint only one man for day duty. In April, Garret J. Cody was appointed a regular officer, and went on duty April 11th.

I recommend that one of the patrolmen be appointed as sergeant, to have the same route and duties that the night patrolman stationed at the centre now has, as the other patrolmen are obliged to report to him when they come in, thus having an officer of higher rank in charge for them to report to. The effect, I think, would be an improvement.

Of the 37 arrests for drunkenness 25 of them were released without being taken to court. The effect of the (so-called) "new drunk law" has not been to decrease the number of cases of drunkenness, but does, to a certain extent, decrease the amount of fines paid to the court.

Several warrants have been taken out to search for liquors, but in only two cases was anything found. Whenever we have found evidence enough to convict, we have prosecuted. I think it safe to say that there was never a time when less liquor was sold in the town than during the past year.

In closing my report I wish to thank the Board of Selectmen for their assistance to me the past year, and the entire force for the prompt discharge of their duties.

I am respectfully,

EUGENE MEAD,
Chief of Police.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

CHIEF ENGINEER OF THE ARLINGTON FIRE DEPARTMENT.

To the Hon. Board of Selectmen:

GENTLEMEN — I herewith submit my Annual Report of the Fire Department for the past year.

The fire loss for the year has been very light, and although the Department has answered seventeen calls, but three of these have been of any importance.

The calls have been as follows:

January 6th. Alarm 11.05 P. M., Box 45. Fire, J. W. Brine's house and shed. Damage slight.

January 19th. Alarm 10.35 P. M., Box 25. Fire, Wm. T. Wood Ice Tool Manufactory. Damage slight.

March 15th. Alarm 11.45 A. M., Box 36. Fire, building owned by J. A. Merrifield. Damage slight.

March 30th. Alarm 12.30 P. M., Box 61. Fire, brush near Hawley house. No damage.

April 3d. Alarm 2 A. M., Box 21. Fire, Rope Factory owned and operated by Mrs. P. J. Dale. Total loss.

April 3d. Alarm 9.55 A. M., Box 21. Needless alarm for the rope walk.

April 7th. Alarm 4.40 P. M., Box 52. Fire, grass in rear Crescent hill. No damage.

April 7th. Alarm 7.12 P. M., Box 37. Fire, house of Wm. Thorpe. Damage slight.

April 7th. Alarm 7.30 P. M., Box 54. Brush fire near Lexington line. No damage.

April 18th. Alarm 1.25 P. M., Box 28. Fire, grass on Wm. J. Niles' estate. No damage.

May 25th. Alarm 10.47 A. M., Box 39. Fire, bakery building occupied by N. J. Hardy. Damage slight.

May 25th. Alarm 3.56 P. M., Box 36. Fire, freight shed on Water street. Damage slight.

July 25th. Alarm 4.05 P. M., Box 35. Fire, house on Gray estate occupied by H. H. Homer.

September 27th. Alarm 6.50 P. M., Box 41. Fire, house occupied by Patrick Rowe. Damage slight.

October 31st. Alarm 9.50 A. M., Box 21. Fire, house owned by David Scanlan. Slight damage.

November 22d. Alarm 8.15 P. M., Box 26. Fire, greenhouse owned by Wm. Scannell. Slight damage.

MEMBERSHIP.

The membership of the Department is in the same condition as last year. We still find it hard to fill vacancies with new members who are in town through the day.

The Firemen's Relief Association is still prospering, having received donations of fifty dollars each from the Wm. T. Wood Ice Tool Manufactory and the John P. Squire Corporation.

The object of this Association is to assist members in case of sickness or accident, each member receiving five dollars per week while unable to work.

FIRE ALARM.

Would report the Fire Alarm in good condition, having had no trouble throughout the year of any importance. It has proved itself thus far to be a valuable auxiliary to the Department, and to the town.

No new boxes have been added this year.

BUILDINGS AND APPARATUS.

The buildings are in the same condition as last reported, no money having been expended on them during the year.

In regard to building occupied by Chemical 5, would say it will be necessary to provide some heating apparatus for same, as the present means of heating the building are not sufficient to keep the pipes from freezing.

No repairs have been made on any of the apparatus during the year.

Five hundred feet of new hose have been purchased, same having been paid for out of the general appropriation.

Four hundred feet of hose have been condemned.

Your attention was called last year to the necessity of a greater number of hydrants, but no action has been taken as yet. I would again urge the necessity of placing a four-way post hydrant near the town house.

APPROPRIATIONS.

I would recommend an appropriation of $4000 to meet the expenses of the coming year; also that the unexpended sum now remaining in the treasury be applied to some heating apparatus for the Chemical Engine House.

In closing I wish to express my thanks to your honorable Board, to my Engineers, and to the members of the Department.

Respectfully submitted.

CHARLES GOTT,
Chief Fire Department.

REPORT

OF THE

TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

To the Town of Arlington:

It is with profound regret that the Trustees have to state the death of their chairman, Dr. Richard L. Hodgdon, which occurred January 30, 1893. In many ways Dr. Hodgdon was a leader in this community but with none of the town's interests was he longer or more closely identified than with the library. By virtue of his profession he became a member of the Board of Trustees when he first came to West Cambridge in 1853. After the death of Dr. Timothy Wellington, who was Secretary of the Board from the institution of the library in 1835, Dr. Hodgdon was chosen Secretary and continued in that office till 1883. When the Board of Trustees became elective in 1878 he was chosen a member and held the position uninterruptedly by successive re-elections until his death. Since 1889 he has been Chairman of the Board. Dr. Hodgdon was thus officially connected with the library for nearly forty years. Of him it may be truly said — to use his own words in regard to Dr. Learned — that "during his whole life, in addition to the performance of the duties of an exacting profession, he was active in promoting many good causes, especially that of education." He looked upon the library as a kindred institution to the schools, and steadily urged upon his fellow-citizens its claims to their support. It is gratifying to reflect that he lived to see the institution for which he had labored reach the prosperity which the past year has brought to it.

The completion of the new building marks so important a point in the career of the library that the present seems an especially fitting time to set down some of the facts in its history. This cannot be better done than in the words of the late Chairman at the dedicatory exercises in November.

On that occasion Dr. Hodgdon spoke as follows:

On entering this new home for the library it may not be inappropriate for one who has been officially connected with it for more than half the years of its existence, to recount briefly something of its progress. The details may be dry but I trust they will not be wholly without interest to its friends. In 1807, shortly after Menotomy (or the northwest precinct of Cambridge), was incorporated as the town of West Cambridge, there was formed the West Cambridge Social Library. This was a corporation in which each member held a share and paid an annual assessment. The library was kept at the house of some member, from which the books were circulated among the subscribers. It contained histories, biographies, books of travels and such works as Pilgrim's Progress, Paradise Lost and Scott's novels. Mention is made of this library to indicate the taste of the people at that time and because that library continued till after ours was established and finally became a part of ours. In 1835 Dr. Ebenezer Learned, a physician of Hopkinton, N. H., left to the town $100 by a clause in his will.

Dr. Learned was a native of Medford, a graduate of Harvard college, and in his early life was a teacher in Menotomy. During his whole life, in addition to the performance of the duties of an exacting profession, he was active in promoting many good causes, especially that of education. The selectmen, ministers and physicians purchased the books as directed by Dr. Learned's will, established the library and then by common consent acted as trustees till, at a later date, the town elected trustees. In 1836 the West Cambridge Sewing Circle gave $60 to increase the fund left by Dr. Learned on condition that all members of the circle should have a right to the library granted them. This right was granted on the condition of the payment annually of a mere nominal sum. In 1837 the first appropriation by the town was made for the library when the town voted to appropriate $30 annually for the increase of the juvenile library. The trustees at once voted that each family in town should have the right to take books from the library while the appropriation was continued; so in 1837 West Cambridge had a free public library open to every one of its people. I can find no record of such an institution in any town in Massachusetts at that time. West Cambridge then has the honor of being the first town in the Commonwealth to have a free town library. In 1843 the Social Library became a part of the Juvenile Library and the town voted that "the books purchased with the money furnished by the State and town for District school libraries be placed in the Juvenile Library." In 1858 the library received a donation of the books of the West Cambridge Agricultural Association. On the change of the name of the town the library in 1867 took the new name. In 1872 the town voted that the library be hereafter called the Arlington Public Library, leaving the same trustees in charge of it. In 1878 it was thought wise to have an elective board of trustees and the library was put under the charge of a board of three trustees. Recently the town has voted to add three trustees so that after this year the number will be six. In 1860 the appropriation for the library was made $100 and soon after $200. Since that time the town has increased the appropriation to a sum which has supported the library liberally. In 1870 the proceeds of the dog tax were voted for the first time to the library. That has been done annually since. The citizens have always shown a lively interest in it. Every appropriation recommended by the trustees has been made by the town.

Under this liberal treatment by the town the library has increased so that it comes into its new home with between 12,000 and 13,000 volumes of books carefully selected. The first trustees at their first meeting, November 30, 1835, voted that the books selected for the library be such as were directed by the will of the donor, the same not being of a sectarian character. This vote still controls the trustees, who have always had, in the performance of their duty, the intelligent aid of the librarians, all of whom have been earnest and active friends of the library from the first to the present excellent librarian, Miss Lizzie J. Newton, who has for twenty years done us faithful service. Until now the library has been like a wanderer without a home. The first two librarians kept it at their homes; Mr. Jonathan Dexter in his house which is the three story house next to the railroad on the south side of Arlington avenue, Miss Esterbrook in the old Adams house which stood at the corner of Mystic street and Arlington avenue. In 1842 it was moved into the vestry of the First Congregational church. When the Town House was completed it was moved into that and remained there until it had outgrown any room which was available. In 1884 it was placed in the hall in Swan's block. At this time there occurred an important event in its history. The earnest desire of many good citizens was gratified by the establishment of a free public reading room, an institution which, in any community, exerts a potent influence for temperance and morality. Now the library comes to a permanent home, and this spacious and elegant apartment is Arlington's free public reading room.

The library has received many gifts of money and books. The first was a joint contribution of books by Hon. James Russell and Dr. Timothy Wellington, one an honored and trusted lawyer, the other an honored and beloved physician. Among others who have made donations are Mr. Charles Griffiths, Capt. George Lee and Mr. J. M. Hollingsworth. Four bequests have been left to the town for the library, which I will mention in order. In 1853 Dr. Timothy Wellington, who had been clerk of the trustees from the beginning, left a legacy of one hundred dollars, the same sum left by the founder. This was invested and the income is spent annually for the purchase of books. These sums may not seem large to us of to-day, but when the time and the circumstances are considered they appear noble gifts of noble men. In 1875 the town received $10,000 under the will of Mr. Nathan Pratt who for many years had been a prominent citizen. He gave the same sum to the Cotting High school, a kindred institution. In 1889 a bequest of $5000 was made to the library by the will of Deacon Henry Mott, a much respected citizen, who had been honored from time to time with nearly every office in the gift of the town. The fourth legacy is this fine building. Mrs. Maria C. Robbins, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a native of this town, has built it and presented it to the town as a memorial to her husband, Mr. Eli Robbins, also a native of this town, who became a prosperous merchant in a distant city. This magnificent building says more for Mrs. Robbins than any words of mine can express. It will stand not only as a memorial to her husband but as a monument to her generous nature which prompted the gift. It is complete in all its appointments and of a style of architecture which appeals to no passing fancy but which will command the admiration of future ages as it does that of all good judges to-day.

Mrs. Robbins was aided in carrying out her plans by one to whom the town is greatly indebted, Mr. Winfield Robbins, a gentleman of education and culture, who has given to the building of this library the benefit of his time, good taste and good judgment to a degree known by few. It is now my pleasant duty to mention the last gift to the library. Mr. Elbridge Farmer, a wealthy citizen, by birth an Arlington man, has made a liberal endowment by creating the Elbridge Farmer fund of $50,000 to be held by trustees who shall invest it and pay over the income to the trustees of the library for its support. By this generous act Mr. Farmer has set an example worthy of imitation by all public spirited citizens. It is hoped that many will follow it and enroll themselves among the benefactors of the library, so that it may more fully serve the purpose of its founder, to "promote useful knowledge, and the Christian virtues among the citizens of the town."

The new building was completed during the summer and was accepted by the town with suitable resolutions September 29th. The town then voted that the public library should be named the Robbins Library of Arlington. At a subsequent meeting the number of trustees was fixed at six. The formal services of dedication took place November 29th with the following order of exercises.

7. BENEDICTION,
   REV. FREDERIC GILL.

Beside the generous gift of the endowment fund the library is indebted to Mr. Farmer for valuable portraits of Mr. and Mrs. Robbins and of their two children. Those of Mr. and Mrs. Robbins are by Mr. H. W. Berthrong, and have been placed in the catalogue room.

Another interesting gift is the portrait of the founder of the library, Dr. Learned. This is a present from his daughters and has been placed in the book room, over the delivery desk.

Apart from the changes consequent upon removal to the new building, there have been no occurrences of special importance. The library was closed at Swans' Hall October 20th. Except for the serious disadvantage of being on the second story, the hall has given fairly good accommodation to the library, although it would have been outgrown before many years. The books and other property were at once moved, and the library was regularly opened for the delivery of books November 9th.

The reading room at the Heights still meets with favor. The delivery of books twice a week has been continued during the year, and is of evident convenience to the people of that part of the town.

The removal of the library took place so near the end of the year that it is not yet time to speak of its practical working in its new and permanent home, except to say that experience so far is wholly encouraging, and the Trustees believe that the building will be found well adapted for use in the present and in the future. The town may now, more than ever, feel a pride in its library. It should be our endeavor that its support and administration should not be unworthy of its beautiful surroundings or of the generous spirit of its benefactors—the living and the dead.

For the Trustees.

JAMES P. PARMENTER,
Secretary.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

To the Town of Arlington:

The School Committee submit their annual report.

The report of the Superintendent of Schools, approved and adopted by this Board, contains a detailed account of much of the work of the schools during the year. The present report will therefore be confined to a few topics. The two reports taken together will, it is hoped, give the town all necessary information as to the condition of the schools.

Superintendent of Schools.

The town at the last annual meeting voted to authorize this Board to appoint a Superintendent of Schools. After careful inquiry and investigation we chose to that office Mr. I. Freeman Hall, who entered upon his duties early in May. Mr. Hall was at that time superintendent in Natick and Belmont. By our arrangement with him he gives three days in the week to Arlington and two to Belmont. This plan has worked well in practice, as the schools of the two towns are enough to employ profitably the superintendent's time while the expense is divided in a fair proportion between them. In Mr. Hall we have secured a superintendent of wide experience and of marked energy and ability, and we are already beginning to feel the benefits of placing our schools under his supervision, although, of course, the larger results will take time to work out. In his report herewith printed will be found an account in detail of his work. Speaking generally, the course of study is better arranged than it was, the schools are better organized so that the time of scholars is more wisely used, improvements have been made in methods of teaching,— and in short the natural results of placing the schools under skilled supervision are being wrought out.

The salary of the superintendent is somewhat larger than we estimated in our last report, which was based on the supposition that we should require less of a superintendent's time than we have in fact found advisable. We are agreed however that money spent for this purpose is wisely employed and is producing a decided benefit in the education of the children in our schools.

High School.

At the close of the school year Mr. Fisher resigned as principal of the school in order to engage in another occupation than teaching. Mr. Fisher during the nine years that he occupied the position proved himself a teacher of ability and enthusiasm with a deep interest in the school. The vacancy was filled by the appointment of Mr. Ira W. Holt, the principal of the Natick High School. Miss Simmons at the same time resigned her position in the school, to the deep regret of the Committee and of all who have been acquainted with the unusual value of her work. Miss Gooding who had acceptably acted as substitute during Miss Simmons' two years' absence was elected in her place.

The school opened in September with eighty-five scholars, the largest number it has ever had. The course of study was at the same time considerably changed. Book-keeping, German, Geology, Mental Philosophy have been added to the branches previously taught and there has been to a limited extent a re-arrangement in the order of taking up studies and in the amount of time devoted to each. It was found possible to make these changes without seriously interfering with scholars already in the school, the new course having been arranged so as to conflict as little as possible with the requirements of the old course. As now arranged there are four courses viz.: Two Years' Course, General Course, Academic Course and College Course.

Although more than ever hampered in its work by the insufficiency of the building, the school is in other respects in good condition, and with the near prospect of a new building, the outlook is promising for not only maintaining but extending its usefulness.

Changes of Teachers.

The changes at the High School have been already mentioned. Miss Snelling, an efficient and valuable teacher, resigned her position at the Crosby School at the end of the school year. Miss Hattie A. Snell was appointed in her place. In May Miss Stella M. Grimes was appointed teacher of the fifth grade in the Russell School, a position which had been filled by substitute teachers since the resignation of Miss Fell at the end of the previous November. At the beginning of the new school year the increase in the first grade now comprising all the scholars in town of this grade — as explained in the Superintendent's report — necessitated its division. Mr. Freeman was placed in charge of one section and Miss Flanders,— formerly general assistant in the building — of the other. The sixth grade had to be divided also at this time between Miss Warren and Miss Fannie A. Manson. Miss Manson taught but one term, and Miss Ella J. Holmes has recently been appointed in her place. The number of scholars in the third primary grade was also too large for one teacher. Miss Margaret L. Martin was therefore made an assistant to Miss Day, and as soon as a room could be made ready in the Adams building, in the middle of October, the class was divided, Miss Martin's division going to the Adams building.

At the Cutter School, one of the teachers was removed by death, Miss Brady's long illness reaching a fatal termination in May. In her the town has lost a good and faithful teacher, interested in her pupils' welfare and influencing them for good. Her sister, Miss Rose Brady, who had been acting as her substitute, was appointed in her place.

Miss Carter, a teacher of experience and efficiency, resigned in April as teacher of the fourth and fifth grades at the Locke School, and Miss Margaret Oakes was chosen to the position. Miss Elizabeth Van Derveer was appointed in February as teacher of the eighth and ninth grades in place of Miss Blake who resigned at the end of the preceding term.

Buildings and Repairs.

The most important action of the town during the year was in relation to a new school building. The condition of the High School called more than ever for relief and the Russell building also had every room occupied and one class left over which had to be put in the Adams building. The town, at a meeting held September 29, appointed a building committee to report a definite plan for a new building. This committee brought before the town, at an adjourned meeting held November 14, a plan which met the unanimous approval of the meeting. Comprising accommodations for high and upper grammar grades, the building will meet the needs of the schools and it may be confidently hoped that its completion will give opportunity for decided improvements in our school system.

At the Crosby School, the grounds have been properly graded and the plastering and blackboards repaired. This school-house is in fairly good condition for an old building. The growth of the east part of the town will, however, call before long for enlarged school accommodations.

At the Russell School, the smaller of the two boilers was found to have become so worn out and useless that it was removed during the spring vacation. Four new radiators were placed in the upper story in rooms and entries that were imperfectly heated. Except the addition of thirty new seats for the first grade no other alterations beside ordinary slight repairs have been made.

At the Locke School, the outhouses have been thoroughly repaired. New seats have been placed in Miss Evans' room.

As the Adams building had not been occupied by schools for many years considerable work in cleaning, painting, etc., had to be done to prepare a room for the primary school now established there.

No important repairs were necessary at the Cutter School. Considerable trouble and expense has been caused by the malicious breaking of windows in the building on several occasions.

The full report of the Superintendent of Schools makes it unnecessary to extend this report to greater length. The Committee believe that the changes introduced this year are for the good of the schools, and that the results will be found beneficial to the scholars and satisfactory to the town.

Approved by the Board.

JAMES P. PARMENTER,
Chairman.

JANUARY, 1893.

REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Committee of Arlington:

GENTLEMEN: The first annual report which I have the honor of submitting to you covers only about seven months of service.

When I began work, May 15, 1892, I found 827 pupils attending the public schools of Arlington. They were accommodated in four buildings, as follows:

Cotting High School, Academy street, 55; Russell School, Grammar and Primary, Medford street, 395; Crosby School, Primary, Winter street, 98; Cutter School, Grammar and Primary, Arlington avenue, 137; Locke School, Grammar and Primary, Park avenue, 142.

In general the organization and grading seemed to be good, but a close examination of the situation showed that the Locke and Cutter schools were laboring under serious disadvantages. At the Locke School, Miss Copeland had three classes, grammar grades, studying a variety of subjects, in one room. It was necessary for her, counting five recitations for each class, to hear fifteen recitations every school day (five and a half hours). Although it was possible occasionally to combine two classes for instruction, little time could be saved in this way, and there were circumstances peculiar to the school which prevented any such adjustment. Miss Van Derveer's room, primary, was crowded, making it impossible for her to give each pupil that individual attention which the youngest pupils should receive.

At the Cutter School the same conditions existed in the primary room, Miss DeBlois's, and similar conditions in the upper grammar grades, Mr. Soule's room, though he had smaller classes than Miss Copeland.

To remedy these defects it had been suggested that all the first class grammar pupils in town should be brought to the Russell School, where special attention could be given them by the principal and his assistant, and more interest awakened in home study and in advanced lines of work, preparatory to the High School course.

After a careful consideration of various plans, you decided, wisely, I think, to have the first grammar class attend school at the Russell building from 8 to 12.30 each day and to so classify the Cutter and Locke Schools that no teacher in town should have more than two classes or be responsible for more than two years of work.

At the Russell School the crowded condition of the lowest primary room and the fifth and sixth grammar rooms suggested the necessity of forming two new classes by making parallel grades. Hence arrangements were made to open the unoccupied room, and to have two fourth grammar and two sixth grammar classes. When the fall term opened every room in the Russell building was occupied, and still the lowest primary class numbered 76 pupils. Arrangements were therefore made to give Miss Day an assistant, and one of the rooms in the Adams building was fitted up for the accommodation of the lowest division of her class.

These changes in the classification of the Russell School suggested the advisability of making a few more, to remedy certain defects in organization which were manifest to the superintendent soon after he began to inspect the schools. The average age of pupils in the upper grammar classes seemed high and a careful analysis of the facts showed plainly that it would be safe to make the plan of promotions at the Russell School more flexible in order to give pupils who were ready to do extra work a fairer chance to cover the nine years' course in seven or eight years. Some change seemed necessary, so a decided change was made. Twelve pupils were promoted to the first grammar class, their places filled by special promotions from the class below, and so on through several classes, the basis of promotion in each case being special ability or faithfulness proven by the recitations and written examinations of the previous year. These changes, we believe, have been beneficial, not only to the pupils promoted but to all classes in the Russell building. "The wall of partition," separating each class is not broken down but lowered at various points so that it may be more easily scaled at any time by pupils who are willing to work faithfully, diligently and persistently. It is our purpose to prepare for and make more special promotions next year. They encourage and stimulate individual effort and are an effective antidote for that "hard and fast," "cast iron" plan of classification which develops the mechanism of our educational system at the expense of the child's individuality. These are the only important changes which have been made in school organization during the past year.

Statistics.

At present, January 1, 1893, there are in the public schools of Arlington 959 children, accommodated and classified as follows:

COTTING HIGH SCHOOL 86; first class 9, second 10, third 25.

RUSSELL SCHOOL 502; first Grammar (two rooms) 60, second 40, third 37, fourth (two rooms) 71, fifth 41, sixth (two rooms) 87.

First Primary 44, second 40, third (two rooms) 82.

LOCKE SCHOOL 129; second and third Grammar 27, fourth and fifth 26, sixth Grammar and first Primary 38, second and third Primary 38.

CUTTER SCHOOL 138; second and third Grammar 15, fourth and fifth Grammar 33, sixth Grammar and first Primary 42, second and third Primary 48,

CROSBY SCHOOL 101; first and second Primary 58, third Primary 43.

It may be noted that the whole number in actual attendance January 1, 1893 (959), is 132 larger than on the first day of June, 1892. The increase has been largest at the High and Russell Schools.

The whole number of children registered during the year is, of course, much larger than the actual whole number who have attended school in town during the year, because many names are repeated on the school registers by different teachers, as pupils pass from one room to another, by transfer or promotion. This number is sometimes given as the whole number of children attending school, but it is obviously too large, because every pupil transferred from one school to another is counted twice.

It is given for each class in the statistical table appended to this report.

We present here a summary of the remaining statistics given in that table.

The number of different pupils attending school in town during the year has been 1127.

Every pupil who has attended school in Arlington during the year beginning January 1, 1892, and ending January 1, 1893, is counted in this number. It includes some who have come and gone,—the floating population—some who have left school to work or on account of sickness, all who have graduated from the High School during the year, and those attending school at present.

The number over 15 years of age has been	148
The number under 5 years of age has been	8
The number between 8 and 14 years of age has been	971
The average number attending this year has been	918

This is smaller than the present number (959), because the whole number of pupils during the first half of the year was much smaller than during the last six months.

The average daily attendance has been	832
The ratio of daily attendance has been	90

The average daily attendance is much smaller than the present number in attendance, because so many new pupils have entered school since September 1, and because the attendance in various rooms during the first half of the school year was irregular and inconstant, on account of sickness and other causes noted in the statistical table. We wish that every parent who has been accustomed to allow his children to leave school at irregular periods, for a longer or shorter time, could look over the record books of the teachers, as I have lately, and see how large a majority of those who are dragging along in the upper classes discouraged and uninterested are there, in that condition, altogether, because their previous course of study has been broken up and disjointed by an occasional absence of two or three days and sometimes even of a week or fortnight; not generally on account of sickness, but for pleasure or some slight profit pecuniarily. No ordinary pecuniary gain can compensate a pupil for time lost in the lower grades of our grammar schools, because much of the interest and inspiration of the advanced work and all in it that makes for utility in after life depends upon the thorough and systematic instruction of the preceding two or three years. Knowledge, interest, enthusiasm and a habit of punctuality—these are gained by attending school every day while the schools are in session. With vacations and holidays as frequent as at present, it only needs the exercise of a little care and attention on the part of parents to remedy what has become a very serious evil in Arlington. Let us take care.

Administration and Work.

Most of the time not given to details of business connected with my office has been spent in visiting schools. Some one of the schools being in session each school day continuously from 8 A. M. to 3.30 P. M., it is possible for the Superintendent to visit each school at least once a fortnight.

In visiting schools it is not his purpose to discover petty faults. He tries to ascertain indirectly by quiet observation what, first of all, is the spirit and tone of each school, what attitude of mind the children sustain toward knowledge and ignorance, industry and indolence, in connection with the manifest results attained by their daily work; for the ethical atmosphere of the school-room has more to do with mental development than tasks assigned or lessons recited.

Another purpose must govern the number, time and length of his visits to each school; namely, to ascertain exactly what the character of the instruction is, for while it is partly true that the teacher makes the school, it is altogether true that good teaching makes a good school. Troublesome cases of discipline, confirmed cases of truancy, irregularity of attendance, and kindred evils are not commonly found where the instruction is really good, that is, simple, interesting, thorough and practical.

The third aim of wise supervision, as I understand it, is to broaden the work of the public schools. People who labor in the midst of a busy, bustling, hustling world can hardly realize how surely the tendencies of school-room life are opposed to those of the world of affairs. The narrowing influences of the school-room may be no worse than the superficial and distracting tendencies of worldly life, but they are contrary the one to the other, and if no attempt is made to reconcile them, how can our schools be expected to fit boys and girls for the push and rush of business life? It is possible, I believe, for the school superintendent, standing as it were between the school-room and the busy world, to introduce into all the schools under his charge incidentally, but continuously and persistently, by suggestion, conversation or examination, such vitalizing elements as will counteract the predominating influences of method and routine.

The fourth purpose I try to keep in mind while exercising my prerogative as inspector and director, is to secure unity of aim and method among the teachers. For lack of this, there has been a great waste of time and effort in public school work, especially where schools are closely graded.

Miss A is quite sure to give special attention to one line of work, Miss B to another, and so on, while both may be employing methods which counteract each other. Is such work economical? In any other sphere of labor, except school teaching, would a sensible man expect a fair return for money invested if his workmen were doing each a part of the work without reference to what others were doing to complete the whole? Yet it is not advisable to try to secure mechanical uniformity in teaching, for teaching is not a trade but an art—the highest of all arts. A superintendent of schools cannot organize and unify his work by issuing arbitrary directions to be followed exactly.

"In this respect his work is radically different from that of a superintendent of a manufacturing industry. Educational work must be directed by directing the thinking of the teachers who do the teaching. They must be led to comprehend clearly the principles on which the work is based and thus to view and criticise the details of methods and devices in the light of such principles. The most valuable, and, at the same time the most responsible part of the superintendent's work is to lead (or train, if necessary) the teachers, whose work he is directing, to do their own thinking."*

In a system of schools the trend of thought among all teachers should be about the same, but each teacher should be led to think in lines not narrow as her school-room but broad as the whole work.

All progress, all changes in methods of teaching, all unity of purpose and economizing of time and labor becomes valuable and comes to stay when it comes as the outgrowth of an intelligent apprehension of the principles of education.

The two means I have employed to direct and organize, to unify and improve our educational work have been:

1. Teachers' Meetings, where lessons have been given on the principles and methods of teaching; and

*From Report of Superintendent T. M. Balliet, Springfield, Mass.

2. Personal Observation and Criticism in Special Lines of Work.

Teachers' meetings have been held nearly every week, generally on Wednesday from 4 to 5 o'clock, and although every teacher was not required to be present at every meeting few teachers have been absent from any meeting without a good excuse.

We have considered in particular three lines of work,—reading, writing, and geography. Very little, if anything, has been said to or by the teachers about any other subjects of study. This is according to the plan which I presented to you and which was accepted by you at the time of my election, namely, improvements will be attempted in one or two branches of study at a time. All changes are to be made slowly and carefully. No results shall be required until sufficient time has been given to produce them. On account of the faithfulness and efficiency of the teachers it is possible for me to report already some improvement in reading. At the beginning of the fall term I examined every pupil, in the primary and grammar schools, in this subject, that I might have some criterion from which to measure progress. Examinations were also given in writing in June, and the specimens of penmanship taken at that time have been kept for comparison.

A simple outline of work for the year, not a detailed course of study, was prepared and printed during the summer vacation. To give the citizens some idea of what we are attempting in the three subjects (reading, writing and geography) which are receiving special attention, I reprint the following paragraphs,

Reading.

Two distinct lines of work are indicated here:

I. Train pupils to read at sight, Information Reading. Books will be furnished as rapidly as possible, in the different grades.

II. Train pupils to read repeatedly, carefully and thoughtfully, Literature. Standard selections — complete, not scraps — will be provided in each grade.

Teachers will be required to keep a list of the selections or books read in each line. They are also advised to keep a list of the words learned from day to day.

Steps III. and II. Primary.

Sight Reading from the blackboard, Reading Charts and books of First Reader grade. Drill Reading from Literary Selections furnished.

I. Primary.

Sight Reading from the blackboard, written or printed slips and books of Second Reader grade. Teach the Vocabulary given in "The Riverside Manual" and "The Riverside First Reader." Drill Reading from Scudder's Fables, Andersen's Stories, Hawthorne and Longfellow.

VI., V., and IV. Grammar.

Sight Reading from Science, Geographical and Biographical Readers and other books of Third Reader grade.

Drill Reading from Hawthorne, Longfellow, Whittier, Burroughs and other standard authors.

III., II., and I. Grammar.

Sight Reading: Biography, History, Travels and Science.

Drill Reading: American and English Literature.

Pupils will be examined in both Sight and Drill Reading.

Penmanship. Two Courses of Instruction Necessary.

1. General. Each child must be trained to copy carefully and neatly every word, phrase or sentence learned. In higher grades every exercise in writing may be a training in accuracy of eye, in steadiness and flexibility of hand, and in obedience and cleanliness.

2. Special. Special instruction should be given that the pupils may learn one thing at a time, and each thoroughly — the straight line, the correct slant, the connecting curve, the capital curve, etc.,— in a natural order based upon a proper classification of the script letters.

III. Primary.

Teach i, u, n, m, A, and T. Present each letter as a whole on the blackboard. Excite curiosity. Appeal to the imagination. Lead pupils to analyze each letter, unconsciously.

II. Primary.

Teach v, w, c, e, o, a, F, N, M. In teaching give large copy. Teach by comparison.

I. Primary.

Teach d, g, q, j, t, y, l, b, I, J, H, K, P, B. Teach penholding without ink.

VI. Grammar.

Teach all the small letters and capitals. Practise movement exercises. Write on paper with ink.

V., IV., and III. Grammar.

Review carefully all the letters and use one copy book as a model.

Secure accuracy and finish.

II. and I. Grammar.

Teach shading. Require rapid and free movement.

Methods and Directions. 1. Have pupils write a great deal always at the top of effort. 2. Give exercises to make the muscles strong and flexible. 3. Give exercises to make the muscles firm, obedient to the will. 4. Give special attention to the strengthening of the will. The will unlocks power and measures the amount of energy it chooses to liberate. 5. Have pupils do a little and do it well. 6. Make all stimulation as far as possible subjective. 7. Be sure that interest and pleasure attend all drill. 8. Require pupils to write lightly. 9. Require smoothness, accuracy and finish first, rapidity afterwards. 10. Teach and train unconsciously all you can. Use double lines = =

General Directions. 1. Carry forward each method steadfastly to the end. 2. Remember that "practice makes perfect." 3. Use slate and blackboard a great deal. Form not finish. 4. Teaching and training should be logically separate in the mind of the teacher, but carried forward simultaneously. The second is subordinate to the first, but one can never take the place of the other, or precede it altogether in time. 5. Do not allow the child to follow an ideal standard too soon. 6. Realize the true character and importance of the work, Education and Training. The End of all Teaching and Training should be — To have pupils write well, not simply in a writing book, but anywhere.

Geography.

The most common mistakes made in teaching Geography are,

1st. Teaching, or attempting to teach, TOO MANY facts (details).

No small part of what children often have to learn in Geography might appropriately be labelled "THINGS WORTH FORGETTING!"

2d. Failing to train the intellect properly; burdening the mind with disconnected facts, unmeaning, dissociated knowledge. "A good deal of such knowledge may co-exist in the learner's mind with complete inaction and barrenness."

3d. Losing sight of the great purpose of all teaching, all school work,— which is to interest your pupils in the study of Nature, the world in which we live, its beauties and its resources.

Directions to Teachers.

1. Teach facts which are CENTRAL, TYPICAL; as many as your pupils can easily grasp and easily retain.

Teach these thoroughly.

2. Teach Structural Geography, "the basis of all true geographical teaching," FIRST. Each fact of political administration, of commercial geography must ultimately connect itself with a right understanding of such matters as soil, climate, shape, size, etc.

The changes at the High School are noted and explained by the Chairman in his report. The improvements undertaken for the purpose of broadening the course of study and expanding the English work, have been of such a character as not to narrow or retard the work in other directions. The classical course to-day is as thorough and complete as it ever was. Our intention is to keep it full and strong while giving science, mathematics, literature, bookkeeping and kindred subjects a great deal wider scope.

In Drawing, the special teacher, Miss Parker, and the committee to whom this subject has been assigned report commendable progress. I have noted many signs of improvement since September 1, and some good results have been attained already. There has been more method, more system, more sequence in the work, and a more intelligent apprehension of the principles of teaching as applied to drawing. The Committee on drawing deserve special mention for their generosity in supplying material and for the encouragement they have given us by their attention to matters of detail, and by their presence in the school-rooms for purposes of observation and criticism. Special efforts have been made to encourage the use of drawing in teaching other subjects. The children are trained to apply what they have learned in connection with their written work, number, language, history, geography, natural science and manual training. A course of study in drawing, prepared by Miss Parker, has just been printed for the use of teachers.

In Music, I have to report that while every class is not doing satisfactory work, some are doing remarkably well. In quality of tone, in freedom and life, in the ability to read music at sight there has been a decided improvement. A few classes are doing as good work as can be found anywhere. The subject of music also has been carefully looked after by the music committee.

New interest was awakened in Scientific Temperance Instruction, by the admirable address given by Mrs. Mary H. Hunt, at the teachers' meeting held December 15. An outline of work, now in preparation, and a better adjustment of text-books will make decided gains possible next year.

In connection with the Drawing and Nature Study some beginnings have been made in manual training, and an exhibition of the results will be given later in the year. Not until our new High School building is erected and rooms are furnished for special classes in this subject can systematic work be undertaken.

There are some defects in our school system, great improvement in methods is possible; but all changes ought to be made slowly and carefully. Education is growth. Its fruit is development or expansion from within, and the best results in education, the only results worth speaking of, we must wait for patiently as the florist waits for a beautiful flower which cannot be made—it must be left to grow.

The schools have received careful attention at the hands of the school board. So far as my observation goes, the work of the Committee has been characterized by an unusual amount of thought, care, foresight and prudence. I take this opportunity to acknowledge my obligation to them and to the citizens of Arlington for their assistance, sympathy and hearty support. I desire also to thank the teachers for their cordial cooperation.

Our system of public instruction merits the attention of every citizen. None are too poor to help the cause along, and none too rich to be relieved from the duty of giving of their means and fostering care, each according to his ability, that the schools may prosper and improve rapidly, and serve that highest need of every civilized community—the best and equal education of all its children. The common school, supported at public expense, is worthy of increasing interest and generous support.

Respectfully submitted.

I. F. HALL,
Superintendent.
